Crowd expected for train whistle meeting

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

A crowd can be expected for the meeting between area residents, municipal officials, the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC), and Wisconsin-Central Railroad. The meeting will start at 7 p.m. on Jan. 16 at the Antioch Village Hall.

Antioch residents are not alone in their complaints about excessive whistle blowing by freight trains. Public officials from Lake Villa and Grayslake are also expected to attend the meeting as a result of homeowner complaints in their respective areas.

A representative of the ICC, Bernie Morris, will be on hand to discuss any options villages along the tracks may have. Four representatives from Wisconsin-Central Railroad are expected to attend as well.

A petition was presented to the Antioch Village Board in December requesting an ordinance to curb the problems.

However, concerns about potential liability to the village stopped board members from approving any kind of resolution.

While some homeowners complain about the inability to sleep as a result of increased train traffic on the rail lines, other citizens have voiced concerns regarding safety. At this time, two railroad crossings in Antioch do not have safety gates, and one does not have any warnings.

Martini named liaison for Antioch sewer study

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

New County Board Member Judy Martini has been appointed as the liaison between the Public Service Committee and Antioch Township residents regarding a proposed sewer feasibility study. Martini, who represents District 1, which covers Antioch and a small portion of Lake Villa, had been appointed to the Public Service Committee last month.

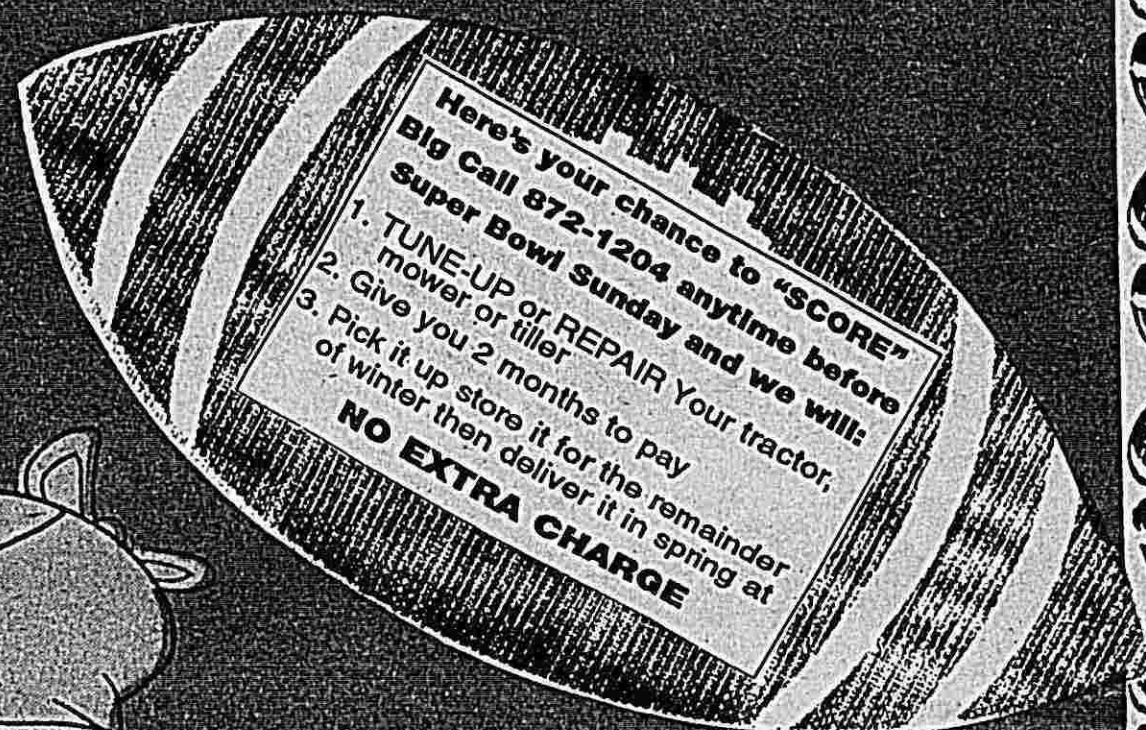

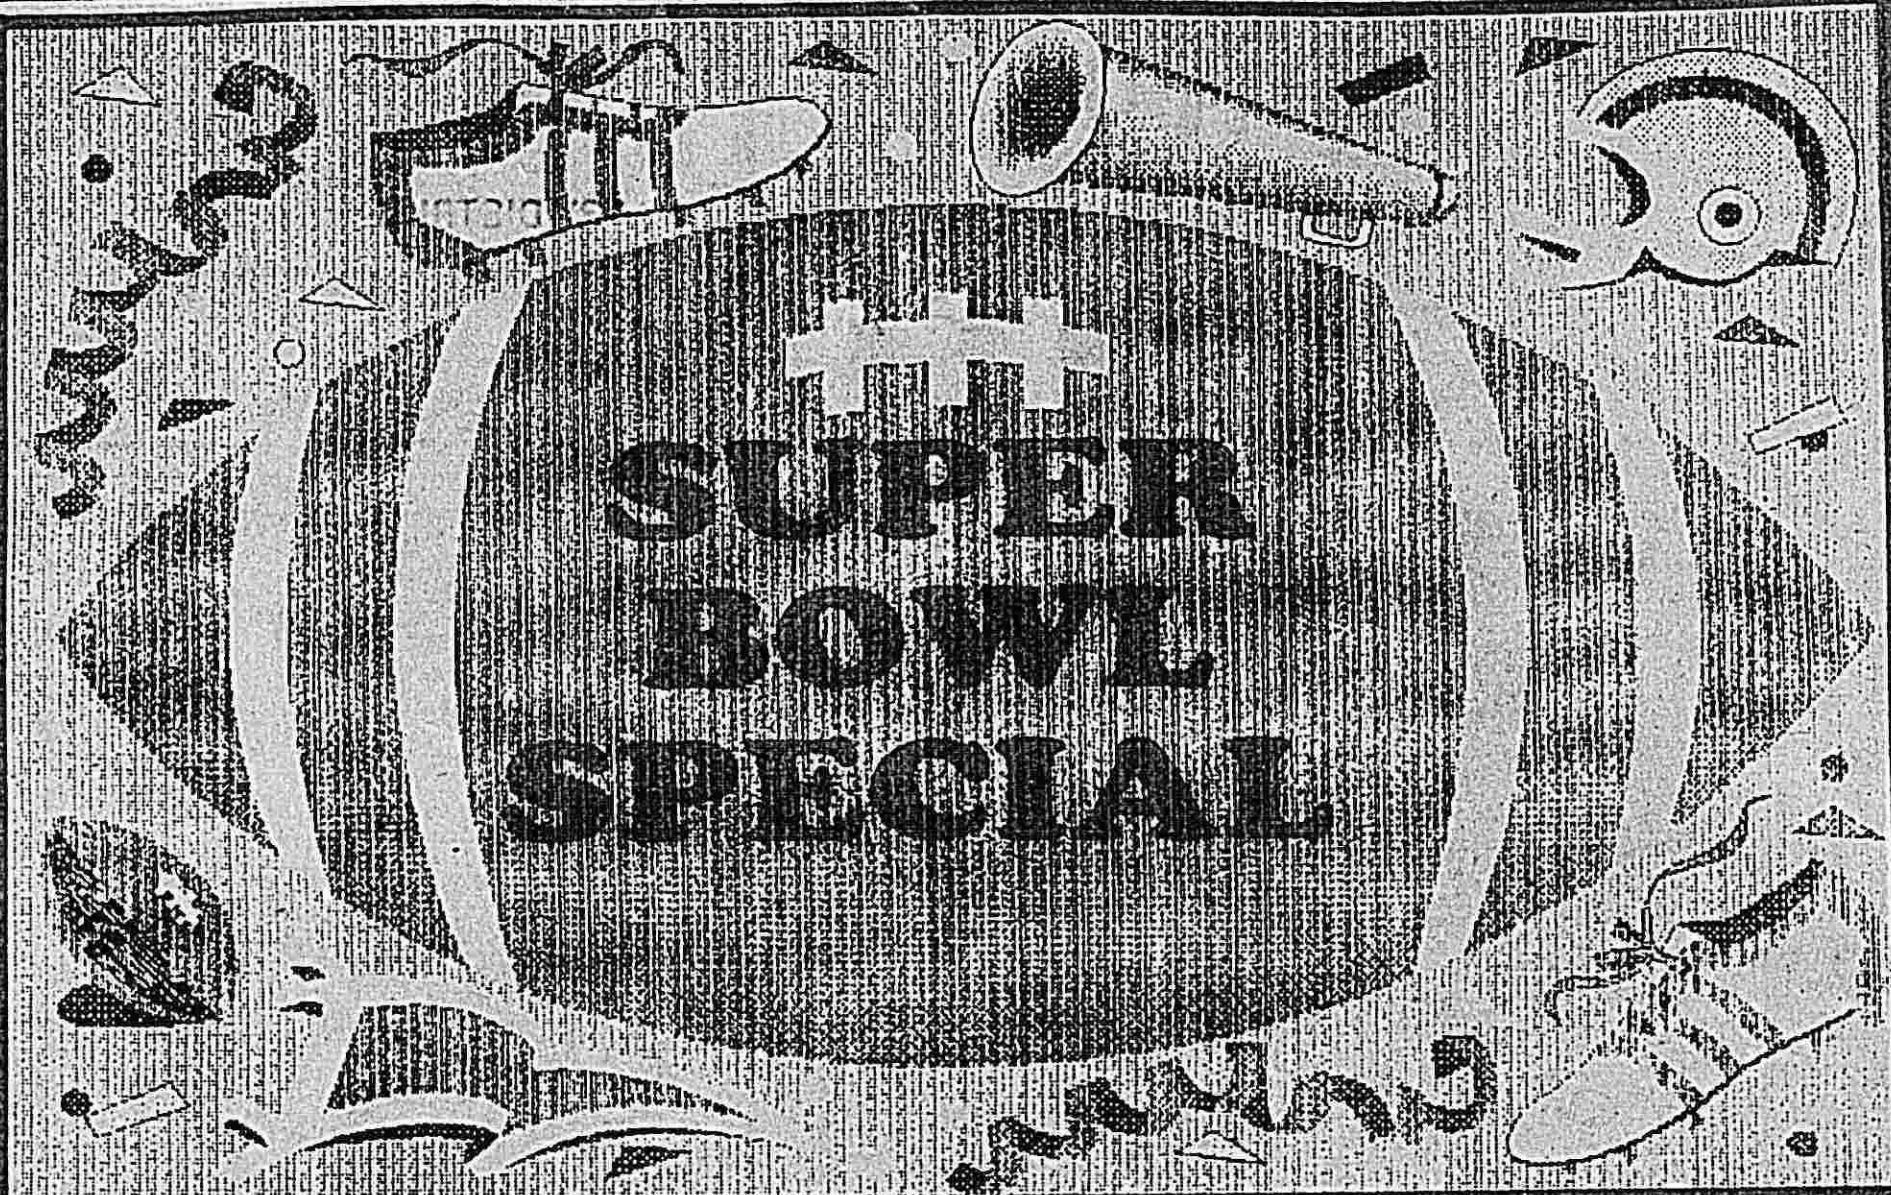

Martini will work with representatives of United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA), the organization pushing for a feasibility study, and other municipal officials. UHAUA is encouraging subdivisions as well as those households not located in homeowner association groups to send a letter to the Waukegan Public Works Department indicating an interest in the study.

Public Works Director Al Galantha told residents in a meeting last month a feasibility study would not obligate homeowners but is simply a study. The study would be paid for by user fees.

"If people are interested, they need to send a letter," said Martini. According to Carole Jonites, president of UHAUA, approximately 800 homeowners have indicated, through their subdivision leadership, an interest in the study.

For more information, call 395-7371. A copy of a sample letter will be mailed to anyone interested.

Upper grade gets educational treat

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Students at Antioch Upper Grade School got a real treat on Tuesday when Theater BAM dropped by for their live presentation of Schoolhouse Rock. Schoolhouse Rock is an Emmy winning education mini-cartoon which appeared on Saturday morning television for 20 years between 1973 and 1985.

While the name may not ring a bell, almost every parent is familiar with the catchy musical cartoons which include how a bill is made into law, a musical rendition of the Preamble, and the ever popular "Conjunction Junction." With a repertoire of over 41 songs and four Emmy awards, BAM has adapted the cartoons into a live (and lively) production.

Created by an advertising executive in 1973, the basic idea behind Schoolhouse Rock was that young children are able to remember words to songs. By coupling information to music and cartoons, children learn and remember the information.

While many cartoons have been revived in recent years for non-animated movies and stage productions, Schoolhouse Rock offers something more. While Batman is entertaining, Schoolhouse Rock actually teaches young people.

Schoolhouse Rock Live has been touring schools in the Chicagoland area since 1983. In addition to tours, the production had an eight month run at Cafe Voltaire before moving to The Body Politic Theatre. The group will be performing for schools only until June, when it moves to off-Broadway.

Volunteers alter holiday plans

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Many Antioch Rescue Squad volunteers limit their holiday plans in order to be available for emergencies. One Antioch family is very grateful squad members were on hand this Christmas Eve.

"We had to fly a young boy out on Flight for Life," said Brian Krull, a squad member. "His level of consciousness was low."

Krull said the 5-year-old boy injured his head as a result of a fall around 9 p.m. on Christmas Eve. When squad members Diana and Dave Horton, Ralph Antonelli, Tim Fields, and Jim Lanahan evaluated the boy, they found him "unresponsive."

Flight for Life was called and the boy was taken to Children's Hospital in Milwaukee.

Fortunately, the young child recovered and was released the next day.

"We felt it was for the best," said Krull about airlifting the boy. "It is more dramatic when it is such a little guy."

Krull said since Antioch Rescue Squad is a volunteer organization, squad members sometimes have to limit holiday plans in order to provide coverage.

"A lot of us don't make plans for the holiday," said Krull. "We make sure we are here."

Cocaine seized in Antioch drug bust

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Lake County Metropolitan Enforcement Group and the Antioch Police Department executed a search warrant Tuesday evening on Plum Tree Lane in Antioch. As a result, John J. Hapkowski, 42, was arrested and charged with unlawful possession of a controlled substance with intent to deliver.

Officers seized 12 grams of cocaine, $700 in cash, and various articles of jewelry. According to officers, Hapkowski was in the process of attempting to flush some of the evidence when they arrived.

"We think he was a major contributor in the Antioch area," said Lieutenant Charles Watkins of the Antioch Police Department. According to Watkins, "The arrest was a result of an ongoing investigation."

This is the third drug related arrest in the last few months in which the two agencies have coordinated efforts. In November several search warrants were executed and cocaine arrests resulted. Just last month, another cocaine arrest took place in Antioch. The earlier arrests focused on the drug activities in two area resorts.

Unit district dispute in court this week

On Thursday, opponents and proponents of the Lake Villa Unit School District were to meet in Judge Stephen E. Walter's courtroom to argue whether or not the issue should be on the April ballot. The sides are clearly drawn: Millburn District 24 and the Committee of Ten (representing proponents of the district.)

The new district is roughly planned within Lake Villa Township boundaries and would include kindergarten through grade twelve. Supporters of the plan want to have the issue placed on the ballot in April. However, Millburn would face several and maybe even fatal reductions in EAV and student population if voters approve the new district.

The case has ended up in court after Regional Superintendent Edward Gonwa's decision to not allow the question to go before voters was overruled by State Superintendent Joseph Spagnolo. Millburn then appealed Spagnolo's reversal.

The Lake Villa Unit School District question, if permitted to go before voters in April, is really several different issues. Organizers will have to contend with the possibility that some, but not all, of the ballot questions will be approved by voters.

The most obvious question to be decided, of course, is the question of whether or not to establish a unit school district in Lake Villa. The establishment question will include the tax rates for the new district. The education fund will be 3.53 percent, .5 percent for operations and maintenance, .150 percent for pupil transportation, and .150 for special education purposes.

Voters will also need to vote for a new board of education for the new district. According to organizer Joanne Osmond, this was one of the reasons why the ballot questions were put off until April. By the time the state superintendent had overruled Regional Superintendent Ed Gonwa's decision to keep the issue off the ballot, it was too late for those individuals interested in running for school board to complete filing requirements.

A bond issuance question must also be addressed by voters. The ballot question, if put to voters, will ask if the proposed community unit school district should be granted the authority to issue bonds of not more than $39,500,000. The money will be used for the purpose of building and equipping a high school and elementary school.—by MARY FOLEY

'Grand Lady' passes on

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Lorraine Anderson Schroeder, 85, died on Christmas. An avid supporter of Antioch, she will be missed by all.

"I found her to be a grand lady," said Ted Axton, president of the First National Bank of Antioch. Schroeder was reportedly the first female bank board director in Lake County and was a member of the First National board from 1956 to 1988.

Schroeder was the daughter of C. W. Anderson, founder of the bank, which opened in 1926. Anderson is credited with saving the Chicago Bears when he loaned money to George Halas in 1933. The family still has a summer home in Antioch on the point between Channel Lake and Lake Catherine.

Schroeder was known for her generosity. She donated the property for both the Antioch Township Library and the Scout House. According to Axton, she also occasionally used her own money for bond issues.

"She was unbelievable that way," said Axton.

Schroeder was honored in 1992 at the Antioch Centennial Ball receiving a very special citizen award. "She was tremendously proud of that honor," said Axton.

Raising a family of six, Schroeder was preceded in death by her husband, William E. Schroeder and a son, William E. Schroeder III. She was active in Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and ran the family real estate management business after her husband passed away. She will be greatly missed by the people of Antioch as well as by her family.

ACHS has superintendent finalist

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School Board of Education has a finalist in the superintendent search.

The name of the finalist is being withheld until the board makes a determination on the candidate. The candidate has teaching and administrative experience in Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, according to Joanne Osmond, school board member.

The man is currently a superintendent in Ohio. He met last week Friday with board members and community leaders at the high school building.

The school board has been searching for a superintendent to replace Dr. Robert Schley who had been superintendent for two years. Schley resigned to take another position at Lasalle-Peru Township High School District 120.

Schley's reign in Antioch was a stormy one. Voters failed to approve numerous referenda and he left with the school board facing a $2 million deficit in the education fund.

The school board had replaced Schley with two interim superintendents whom, by state statute, can only work 100 days each — Dr. Darrell Dick, the former superintendent at Wauconda 118, and Richard Kozie, former superintendent at Schaumburg.

The two have served as interim superintendents to this point.

The school board has used search firms to screen possible candidates for the vacated position.

Osmond said the board is reviewing the background and references of the potential superintendent.

Some board members will take a trip to the district the superintendent works to assist the board in making a final determination.

Lake Villa drug raid, father, son arrested

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

A Lake Villa father and son were arrested on multiple drug charges. Arney Armstrong, 63, 110 Oak Lane, Lake Villa, was arrested for unlawful possession of marijuana, unlawful possession with intent to deliver and unlawful use of a weapon. His son, Michael Armstrong, 43, 114 Oak Lane, Lake Villa, was also arrested for possession of a controlled substance and resisting arrest, according to Mark Maley of Lake County Metro Enforcement Group.

MEG, Lake County Sheriff's Department, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst police raided both homes last week Thursday. A search warrant was issued for the home at 114 Oak Lane where a small amount of cocaine and marijuana was found.

Maley said at the home at 110 Oak Lane, the eldest Armstrongs, more drugs were found. Over $2,000 worth of marijuana and cash in excess of $4,000 was found during the search. Also found were two small handguns.

The two were under investigation for about a month, according to Maley.

Michael Armstrong was charged with resisting arrest after he tried escaping his father's home by jumping out a second story window. A Lindenhurst officer was able to detain him before he could escape.

Three others were arrested on possession of controlled substance charges. Richard Michaels, 35, and Dawn Boken, 32 who also live at 110 Oak, were arrested. Van Berkhold, 35, of Wauconda was also arrested.

The two were transported to Lake County Jail.

Stolen sleds lead to arrests

Authorities cracked the case of the three missing snowmobiles and trailer valued at over $17,000 thanks to an anonymous tip to the Lake County CrimeStoppers telephone line.

Sometime between late Saturday evening and 10 a.m. Sunday, two 1992 Arcticcats and a 1991 Arcticcat snowmobile had been stolen from a residence in the 33000 block of Christa Drive in Ingleside.

The sleds were up on a 14-foot flatbed trailer, which was locked and chained. Reportedly, the offenders broke the lock with a crowbar, said sheriff's police.

Police reported an Ingleside man, Steven M. Greenwald, 17, of 34798 N. Elm St., was arrested Monday and charged with four counts of felony theft over $300; as was Jacob Hageman, 21, of 397 Donin Drive, Antioch, who was charged Tuesday.

Greenwald was free Tuesday on $20,000 cash bond, and Hageman was out Tuesday on a $30,000 recognizance bond.

According to reports, Greenwald allegedly borrowed a truck with a hitch to haul the trailer and snowmobiles, and two of the sleds were allegedly taken to a house in the 34000 block of Nokomis Trail in Ingleside where Greenwald was residing.

On Monday morning, authorities staked out the neighborhood and observed Greenwald open a garage door and put gasoline into one of the stolen sleds, said police. After being taken into custody, Greenwald confessed to the thefts said police.

Later on Monday the third snowmobile was found at a residence in the 34000 block of Holman Ave. in Ingleside. The trailer was found at a Spring Grove farm on Bliven Rd. in McHenry County.—by TINA SWIECH

Sheriff warns snowmobilers to stay off ice

Lake County is well known as a primary, year round, midwestern recreation area, and while the Chain of Lakes is recognized for summer activities such as boating and fishing, the cold weather brings winter sportsmen to participate in ice fishing, skiing and snowmobiling.

"The changeable weather conditions and frequent thawing has caused most bodies of water to be unsafe for snowmobiles," said Lake County Sheriff Clinton O. Grinnell. "We and our neighboring counties in both Illinois and Wisconsin are receiving numerous reports of snowmobiles falling through the ice, some of these resulting in the tragedy of lost lives. We must be totally aware of the conditions of the waterways while we operate."

The recommended ice thickness for safe operation is no less than six inches, as the average snowmobile and driver weighs approximately 700 pounds. Grinnell continued to say, "We cannot always be sure of the thickness of the ice by one measurement, as it will be thinner in areas of springs and certain vegetation. All things considered, common sense is the rule and snowmobilers should always be cognizant of the weather conditions affecting their sport."

Sign up now for special evening — Daddy/Daughter Date Night

Attention dads

The Fourth Annual Daddy/Daughter Date Night sponsored by the Antioch Park and Recreation Dept. is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 11. It is a formal evening out for dad and his daughter(s) age 3 or older. There is always a big turn out for this memorable event and tickets are not sold at the door, so register early.

It is held at the Antioch Upper Grade School from 7 to 9 p.m. and costs only $10 per couple with a $3 additional charge per daughter, if dad is lucky to have more than one special lady on his arm. Sign up now to dance, snack and have a very special time as father and daughter. Don't forget to bring your cameras!

Slow down

Is it me or have there been more and more traffic accidents in and around the Antioch area? It seems that every time I turn around I hear the emergency sirens going off, and I also hear about or read about more and more serious injuries or even deaths resulting from these accidents.

When we moved to the Antioch area from Chicago almost 27 years ago, there were certain times during the day a trip to town would mean seeing only a small handful of vehicles making that same trip. That is no longer true, and in my opinion, we often have "bumper to bumper" rush hour traffic during peak times along the various roads leading in and out of our town—Grass Lake Road, Rtes. 59, 83, 173, etc.

In my opinion, Antioch has grown a lot over the past 27 years and this is only a tip of the iceberg, as more and more big housing developments spring up. We are becoming more and more urbanized, yet our speed limits on our county and state roads still reflect those of a rural area. Could it possibly be time to lower the speed limits within a certain radius of the town proper? Could this possibly decrease the number of accidents, or at the very minimum, reduce the severity of the accidents? Food for thought, and if I am even close to being on the mark, I hope the people in charge take the necessary steps to get the ball rolling to make our roadways as safe as possible.

Earth flag

Oakland Grade School is the first grade school in Antioch to participate in the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County's (SWALCO) Earth Flag Program. This program is nationally recognized by the National Assn. of Counties when they were granted an Achievement Award. They were also honored by the Illinois Recycling Assn. with an Outstanding Volunteer Program Award.

Parks and Recreation Director Cheryl McCameron has been trained as an Earth Flag Team Member and will be guiding Oakland to its reception of the Earth Flag. To earn this honor, the school will need to perform five criteria set up by SWALCO. These include meetings with the PTA/PTO, school staff and school children. The school must hold a waste reduction event and recycle one material for one year.

The best thing about this program is that schools have nothing to lose and everything to gain. The program will cost nothing of the school financially. The teachers have almost no extra work to do and are presented with a plethora of free materials from various organizations. The children learn about waste reduction and participate in some wonderful programs. In the end, the school has a beautiful flag showing a picture of the Earth from space to fly below their American flag.

Any other schools, or parents interested in seeing such a program at their school, may call Cheryl at the Parks and Recreation Office at 395-2160.

Beautiful scenery

Being the cowardly non-driver that I am, there are brief moments in time when I miss living in the city of Chicago where everything is accessible by either public transportation or foot power. However, something always happens living on the beautiful Chain O'Lakes that pushes these thoughts away.

After our first big snow storm, I stood gazing out our back window. I glanced up and down the channel, first to the left and then to the right out to the lake. The shoreline was pure white with the new fallen snow, while the rippling channel water looked like blue crystal. The shoreline along the lake was dotted with snow-covered houses and trees with branches drooping from the weight of the snow.

Later that day, a walk up the road produced the viewing of four beautiful deer eating corn from a neighbor's feeder. I stood there in silence, for about three minutes, watching them eat before they noticed me and began to run back into the woods.

Who needs a grocery store or hot dog stand on every corner, and with the train station coming to Antioch, who's to say what other public transportation may come into being on the heels of the train depot? Hang in there, Lizzy, you may yet experience the best of both worlds living on the beautiful Chain O'Lakes.

Fun activities

Once again the Antioch Parks Dept., under the direction of Cheryl Becker-McCameron, has a busy schedule of winter and spring activities planned for everyone's enjoyment. Choose one or more of the following programs and then call for more information, write for more information, or glance through the program book: Aerobics; Boating Safety; Ladies Basketball; Men's Basketball; Co-ed Volleyball; Tennis; Ballroom Dancing; Line Dancing; Calligraphy; Clay for Fun; Bridge; Camp Crayon; Me, Myself & Mom; Tumbling; Shotokan Karate; Village Campus; Young Rembrandts; Cartooning Camp; Soccer Camp, etc.

Me, I want to take Line Dancing and I just might do so. The number of the parks department is 395-2160.

Take cover from Arctic blast

Gone is that mile seasonal weather that we experienced through the holidays. Arctic cold, wind and snow create that season that some dread—winter. It's time to pull out the extra-thick mittens and socks and get ready for 60-90 days of winter weather.

On the positive side: If you need to bundle up against the weather, now is the time to take advantage of winter clothing sales that are being held throughout Antioch.

Men can take advantage of sales on sweaters, sweats and selected outerwear at BJ's Fashions for Men and Jack's Four Squires. There are some bargains to be found in ladies' apparel at the Clothes Connection, and in the women's department at Jack's Four Squires. It seems like the cold weather was timed just right to take advantage of these sales.

If your child's winter wardrobe is already worn out, stop by Choosey Child and find some half-price bargains on winter and holiday wear. All winter coats and jackets are also on sale.

Enjoy saving on holiday decorations for next Christmas. You'll find great savings at JJ Blinkers, Ben Franklin and Party Poppers. Craft sales are underway on Christmas items at The Tulip Patch and Kathy's Cottage.

Use the cold weather to your advantage and stay indoors working out and be fit and ready to hit the beaches come spring. Antioch Schwinn can help your fitness needs with their large selection of exercise equipment. Rick and his staff can help answer your questions and recommend equipment.

If staying indoors appeals to you, but you'd rather sit in a comfortable chair with a good book rather than exercise, perhaps it's time to think about replacing that dining room set that you've had ever since you got your first apartment. Whether you are seriously considering new furniture, or just like to "browse," stop by Patricia's Giftware and Amish Furniture. It's a treat just to wander about and enjoy the look and feel of traditional Amish furniture.

Cold weather is the perfect time to stay inside and read. A good book is great company on long winter nights. For an interesting selection of reading material on health, life and diet, visit Polson's, Leaves of Earth and Sonshine Books.

Share Food, save money

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Share Food program is gearing up for an exciting new year. The program, open to anyone, is a great help in keeping the cost of groceries down.

The program works this way. For $14.50 per order and a donation of two hours of community service, members receive $35 to $40 worth of groceries a month. "You can order as many as you like," explains Claudette Skvarce, one of the program administrators.

Each package will include frozen meats, fresh vegetables, fresh fruit, and canned goods. Foods in the package are geared towards a healthy diet. "The food is low-fat and low cholesterol," said Skvarce. "We always have four meat items along with vegetables and fruit."

In order to participate for the month of February, money must be turned in by Feb. 9. The food can be picked up on Feb. 25 at the Antioch VFW between 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. Money can be dropped off at the State Bank of the Lakes in Antioch, First National Bank of Antioch, or at the Lake Villa Township Office.

A monthly schedule is available. However, there will be no packages during June, July and August. The January pick-up day will be Jan. 28. For more information call 395-2761 or 395-6744.

Antioch unveils water rescue van

With the winter season upon us, the members of the 1st Fire Protection Dist. and Antioch Fire Dept. Water Rescue Team want to remind everyone to please use extreme caution when using the lakes in the area. During the winter months, members of the team respond to approximately 30 calls between December and March.

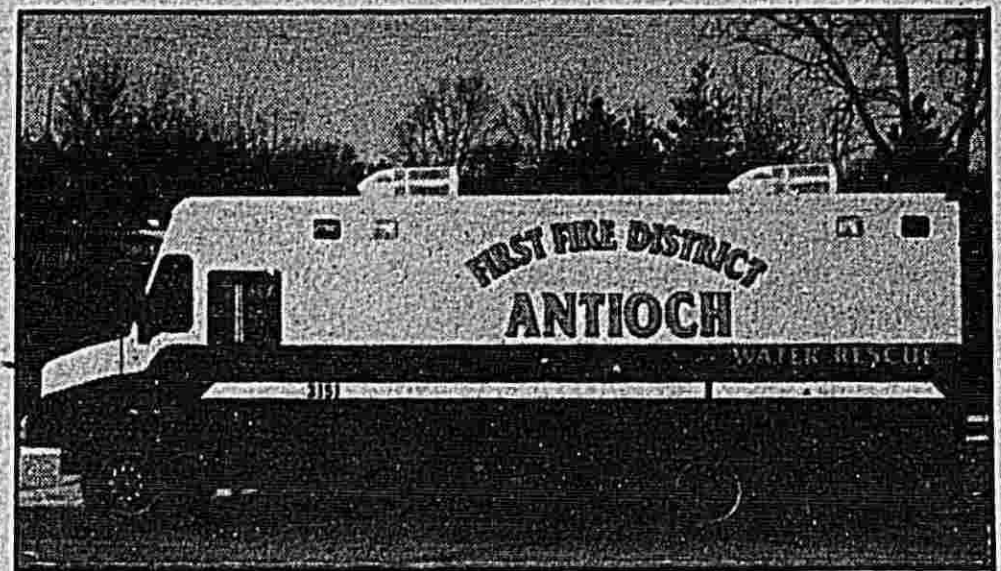

"The one thing people should remember when planning to go out on the ice is let someone know where you will be if possible, never travel out on the ice alone," said Captain Jeff Smouse, dive master for the team.

It is because of the increased number of calls that the 1st Fire Dist. purchased a brand new dive van in December, at a cost of $105,000. The van was the result of several months of planning by Captain Bill Eckert and Firefighter Chris Lienhardt.

The new van was built by Alexis Fire Equipment, who also built the new pumper tanker that the village bought back in June of 1994. "Alexis was the company we choose because the quality of their work is second to none," said Captain Eckert.

The dive van is a Chevy P-60, heavy duty chassis, which was purchased from Lynch Display Vans. The van was then shipped down to the Alexis plant where the entire inside was built and painted.

Each dive team member has their own locker which holds all their gear. "The nice thing about this van, compared to the old one, is everything is set up the way we as divers want it," said Firefighter Lienhardt, who is also a dive team member.

The van has a 24,000 lb. cascade system which will be used to fill both scuba tanks during dive rescue operations and air packs that are used at fires, as well as a 30,000 BTU furnace and two roof mounted air conditioners. "This van can also serve as a type of rehab unit when there is a major fire because of the air conditioners and heat unit," said Deputy Chief Dennis Volling.

With the ever increasing demands placed on this department, the addition of these pieces of equipment only improve the response and professionalism of the Antioch Fire Dept.

Basketball League provides positive fun

ALEC JUNGE
Staff Reporter

Lindenhurst Boys Basketball League's fourth season is nearing completion with more kids and more help from the community.

This year, there are 10 teams with at least 10 kids on each team. Each year the interest and the sponsorship seems to pick up.

The league was formed five years ago by former Police Chief Richard Jablonski as an alternative positive activity for area youth. The games are played on Friday nights at B.J. Hooper School.

"The kids really enjoy what they are doing," said Commissioner Marilee Miller. "They come early and watch each game and stay the entire evening."

Boys from 14-18 join the league and the teams are selected by a lottery system. All boys are guaranteed to play at least 20 minutes or half a game. Boys from throughout Lake Villa Township participate.

"They have to learn the signals. They have to get along and work together and make it as a team," Miller said.

Miller said the league is especially beneficial for youth who don't receive much positive reinforcement.

"You can tell some of these kids come from households without much positive reinforcement. By the end of the year they are learning to share and work as a team. That is one of the greatest accomplishments of the league," Miller said.

College of Lake County students are the referees. "We like the concept of the older kids working with the younger ones. They are still involved and see it as important to the younger ones," Miller said.

The league is partially supported by the Lindenhurst Village Board. The rest comes from sponsors who help finance the cost of the league.

Among the major contributors was Vel Pro Inc. which donated $750. Also making significant donations were the Antioch Rotary Club with $150 and Commonwealth Edison with $200.

Each company which sponsors a team pays $100. These sponsors include McDonald's, Jacobson Excavating, Lindenfest, Serbian Brothers, Aristocrat Shoes, Northstar Travel, Lindenhurst Travel, Anderson Tile, Lake Villa Township Lions and Linden Barber Shop.

Kids from Antioch, Round Lake and Grandwood Park also are part of the league.

The playoffs begin next week. The winner of the playoffs takes on the coaches team in three weeks. The kids all-star team has won two of the three games.

FROM THE CAPITAL

Crane introduces Contract With America legislation

Eighth Dist. Congressman Philip M. Crane has reintroduced legislation which in the past was blocked by Demo-crat controlled Congresses, but which he now feels will be approved with Republicans holding the majority. The legislation is related to the Republicans' Contract With America.

Among the bills introduced by Crane, the new vice chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is one calling for a 50 percent reduction in the capital gains tax. Designed to create jobs for American workers, Congressman Crane introduced comparable legislation in 1987, following the increase passed by Congress in 1986.

As in 1994, he has a bill to repeal the increase in taxation on some Social Security benefits which went into effect as a result of President Clinton's huge tax bill of 1993.

He authorized a bill to increase the amount a Social Security recipient may earn without being penalized from $11,160 to $30,000 over five years. He has sought to significantly increase the amount a senior citizen may earn since 1970—during his first term in Congress.

Another Crane bill calls for granting a tax credit for those who care for elderly relatives. He introduced similar legislation in the late '70s.

The congressman recognized in 1973 the inequities for married persons paying income taxes when both are employed. He put in a bill again to end that practice.

Once again Crane has introduced legislation for a balanced budget amendment. He tried unsuccessfully, under the Democrats, to gain approval of this amendment as far back as 1974.

The congressman renewed his attempts to gain a line item veto for the president. He first introduced this legislation in the 98th Congress (1983-84).

Crane predicted, "You can get things done when you're in the majority that you couldn't accomplish when the Democrats ran Congress."

See Me For Your 1995 Advertising Needs.

Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's.

Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

Advertising is news about products and services. Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the community newspaper because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

Now is a great time to call me. I have a genuine concern for my clients. I will never try to sell you more than you need. I work hard at finding what will work for you.

I can bring your business to the attention of over 200,000 potential customers in 13 papers across Lake County, or reach just one community! Call me today, your success is my business!

Brush with fame

On a trip to Hilton Head, South Carolina, Gene Byrne, 12, of Antioch, had the opportunity to shake hands with President Clinton and to chat with him briefly. Gene and his sister, Kate, 10, were visiting their father and grandmother over the Christmas holidays. Gene and Kate also joined the president when he went for a 45-minute walk along the beach. Kate had the opportunity to shake his hand that time. Both Kate and Gene reported the president was very warm and friendly.

-LETTER TO THE EDITOR-

No wake zoning

Editor:

The people of the Chain O' Lakes better be aware of what our Fox Waterway Agency is trying to push down our throats with this latest no wake area in Johnsburg. I have spoken with Dr. Dam and Karen Kabbes about the master plan the conservation department has for the Chain O' Lakes and they could care less.

About 25 years ago, the conservation department stated to the Chicago Tribune that they wanted to see the Chain O' Lakes area revert back to wetlands.

Don't laugh—if you have lived or boated on the Chain O' Lakes for a few years you can see what the conservation department, along with the Waterway Agency, has been doing. There are more no wake areas now than before. Last year, they made the upper Fox River from Rte. 173 down to almost Grass Lake a no wake area. They made 150 feet from shore no wake. Now they want a no wake at the Johnsburg bridge. It has also been recommended by a member of the advisory board they make a second no wake between Dutch Creek and McHenry.

Yes, I agree there is a very serious problem on the river with speed and reckless driving. The reason we have this problem is there is a lack of law enforcement. There are more than enough laws on the books to stop the handful of reckless boaters on the river. Why penalize the good boaters?

There are two major problems with putting in a no wake at Johnsburg. First, when the boats go through the no wake area and crack the throttle wide open to get up on plane, this is when a boat makes the most noise, and it will rattle the windows on both sides of the river—especially at night when everything is quiet.

Second, the agency never looked into the size of the wake made by a large houseboat getting up on plane. This wake can snap a line of a boat tied to a pier and push the boat into the seawall.

If you agree with these facts, please be at the public hearing at Grant High School on Jan. 18 at 7:30 p.m., and let Dr. Dam know we won't be sold out by the master plan.

Sand Lake Road meeting changed to a later date

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

The meeting to discuss the Sand Lake Road intersection was postponed until Jan. 17.

The meeting was delayed to give the Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) more time to provide cost and design information. The new meeting date is Tuesday, Jan. 17, at 4 p.m. in the Lindenhurst Village Hall.

The prospect of signals at the dangerous intersection may come as early as the fall of 1995. To make that happen, financing must be found for the construction of left turn lanes from both lanes of Rte. 45. The Lindenhurst officials are committed to paying a portion of the bill. Developers Westfield Homes and Madison Realty were asked to make a contribution.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis has been working with Lindenhurst officials for four years to get the stoplights at this intersection.

If financing can be arranged to pay around $125,000 of the funds, the temporary lights could be installed with the help of Lake County Division of Transportation.

Dusty Powell of Lake County Division of Transportation, said he needs financial commitments so he can present a financial package to the county board.

Geo-Karis had asked the developers to be community-minded and contribute.

IDOT officials said they should have engineering plans ready for this meeting. Also they have moved the intersection up on the list of permanent signals. However the earliest permanent signals could be installed is by 1997.

Mayor Paul Baumunk and Geo-Karis have been pushing state and county officials to expedite the process. The intersection has claimed the lives of four people in 1993 alone.

Much will be determined at the next meeting. The crucial issue of funding will have to be addressed before the project moves forward.

Process for Lindenhurst land deal, trail beginning

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

An intergovernmental agreement is in the works between Lindenhurst, Lake County Board and Lake County Forest Preserve.

At issue is a possible easement which would allow the Forest Preserve to develop a trail system from the McDonald Woods Forest Preserve to the Fourth Lake Fen and eventually to the Rollins Savannah. Also tied in with the easement is a request by Lindenhurst to get a boundary agreement with its neighbors, according to Mayor Paul Baumunk.

Much of the details need to be worked out. Most of these details are executive session negotiations which can't be revealed at this time. "The end result will be an intergovernmental agreement between the Lake County Forest Preserve, Lake County Board and the village of Lindenhurst which will have identified the boundaries for the rest of the village's existence," Baumunk said.

There are still 17 items which need to be negotiated. The village board approved directing staff to continue negotiations with the Forest Preserve and the County Board. This process was started just before Baumunk was sworn in as mayor in April 22, 1991. The parties weren't able to come to agreement after that point.

For the Forest Preserve, if agreement is reached, a trail system can be established to link three Forest Preserves. Also, an 8-acre parcel of the Bonner property farm would be preserved as a working heritage farm. The farm has been in existence for 147 years.

The trail system to the Fourth Lake Fen would be financed by developer donations at no cost to taxpayers. A key contingency is a request by Lindenhurst to keep 209 acres in its Facilities Planning Area for the sanitary district. The village wants to protect 209 acres south of Grand from Deep Lake Road to Rte. 83.

The village of Lake Villa, in a letter dated Dec. 27, had asked for an amendment in the existing FPA to allow the Northwest Regional Treatment Facility take over the property in question.

"With this intergovernmental agreement all boundary wars will cease. That is my goal and vision and I hope others will share the same goal and mission," Baumunk said. Baumunk said the boundary agreements would allow Lindenhurst to preserve and protect the integrity of the village. He said the agreement would let the village plan for the future.

Suzi Schmidt, Lake County Board Member from this area, and chairperson of Forest Preserve Land Acquisition, also was in the executive session. Lindenhurst Sanitary District Board members were also invited to the executive session.

See Me For Your 1995 Advertising Needs.

Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's.

Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

Advertising is news—about products and services. Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the community newspaper because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

Now is a great time to call me. I have a genuine concern for my clients. I will never try to sell you more than you need. I work hard at finding what will work for you.

I can bring your business to the attention of over 200,000 potential customers in 13 papers across Lake County, or reach just one community! Call me today, your success is my business!

League seeks spikers

The Village of Antioch has started a co-ed, recreational volleyball league. The league will play on Tuesday evenings at the Antioch Lower Grade School.

At this time, the league is on hold until one more team can be found. Families who are looking for an enjoyable evening together are urged to call the parks and recreation department office at 395-2160 to sign up.

Strikers open indoor season with victory

The Grayslake-Mundelein Strikers U-10 team opened the indoor season with a 4-3 win over Lake Forest.

Colin Herchenbach, Kyle Green, Jamie Hawkins and Clay Kovacks each scored a goal. Justen Joerger had five saves as goalie in the first half, and Nate Redleaf had eight saves in the second half.

A shocker: intense RL upsets Grayslake's plans

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

For seniors such as Jason Wilcox, Bill Zibell and Ray Muellemann, the Round Lake-Grayslake rivalry is second nature.

To make a season successful, beating Grayslake is priority No. 1.

But for newcomers sophomore Rob Moore and soph transfer Chris Meadows, a little education was necessary before the Panthers thrilled a home crowd with a 61-53 upset win.

"The seniors told me all about it," Moore said.

Moore went out and scored 12 of his 14 points in the final stanza as Round Lake's lead grew to as many as 13 points.

"We practiced hard this week. Coaches said to box out. We wanted to prove a lot of people wrong," Meadows, who is from California, said.

The victory continued Grayslake's woes in the RL gym. The Panthers spoiled the conference champion Rams bid for an unbeaten league season in the final game of the 1993-94 season.

Zibell's contribution was his defense on Dave Mendralla. Mandralla did score 27 points, but was not a factor as Round Lake pulled ahead.

"It is great. We played with high intensity. Before the game, coach said I was going to guard Mendralla and I just hustled," Zibell said.

"He wanted to do it. I gave him the challenge of stopping Mendralla. Mendralla scored 27 points, but he was one tired puppy. Zibell has a lot of heart," Sapochak said.

Moore's 14 points led the team. The soph impressed Coach Ron Sapochak as the Panthers (4-10, 2-4 NWSC) practiced through an eight-week teachers strike which caused seven forfeit losses, including four conference games.

"Moore is a multi-dimensional player. When Jay (Wilcox, 12 points) fouled out, I was not worried because I knew Rob could step up. He (Moore) can take it to the hole and has such great wing span he can create some mismatches," Sapochak said.

The Panthers readied for the upset by playing an intense five-on-five scrimmage. Those who played with the most intensity got the start. The winners were: Mike Allen (10 points and three fourth-quarter free throws); Zibell; Muellemann (6 points and 10 first-half rebounds); and Meadows (6 points).

Round Lake led 8-4 at the outset as Wilcox ended a fastbreak basket. The Rams answered with John Parr (18 points) and Mendralla. Four Mendralla points brought the visitors to within a basket after eight minutes.

Antioch drops thriller to favorite Mundelein

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

A last-second shot by Mike Tschanz sent Antioch fans to their feet, but to their disappointment the 30-foot shot bounced in and out of the basket as the Sequoits dropped a crowd-pleaser to favorite Mundelein 66-64.

The key match up of the game was whether Antioch could defend Mundelein leading pointmaker Brian McMahon. Antioch's Kevin Eckenstahler had the early assignment, but the 6'5" McMahon was able to shoot over 6'3" Eckenstahler.

McMahon (23 points) opened with Mundelein's first 10 points.

"Kevin couldn't have played any better defense on him," said Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser. "McMahon was just making terrific shots. I can't fault Kevin on the defense."

"Antioch played us tough," said Mundelein Coach Dennis Kessel. "McMahon gave us a big lift early. We knew we had a mismatch there."

A three-pointer by Sean Stackhouse gave Mundelein a 20-10 lead late in the first quarter before Antioch received a scoring burst off the bench from Justin McRae (14 points) and Dave Lawrence (6 points). Lawrence shaved the lead to 16-20 at the buzzer.

Tschanz, who started his first game for Antioch, cut the lead to two, 22-20, in the second quarter with a left-handed layup under the net, and McRae gave Antioch its only lead in the game with 6:05 left in the half by sinking a three-pointer.

"Mike has really picked up his game," Dresser said of Tschanz.

"(Kevin) Geraghty and McRae both gave us good games, and Lawrence got us some big buckets and a few rebounds."

Fourth-quarter hero Ivan Hourruttiner (23 points) and Bjorn Johnson (6 points) helped Mundelein eventually build a 34-40 half-time lead.

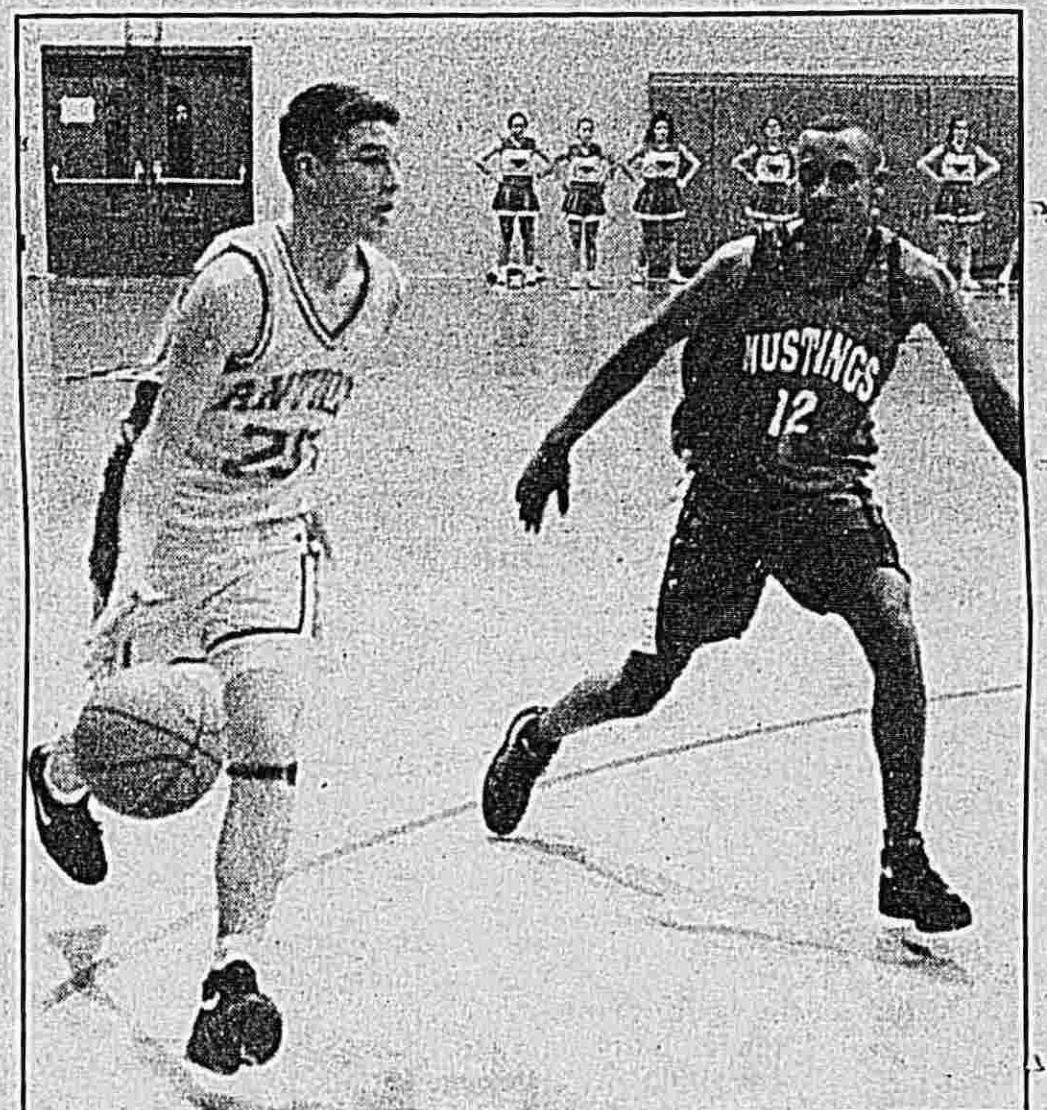

Eric Eckenstahler (12 points) tied the game 48-48 with a three-pointer at the 2:56 mark in the third quarter. McMahon, however, answered with a three-pointer of his own, and Mundelein went on a 9-0 scoring drive to take a 57-48 advantage into the fourth quarter.

Eric Eckenstahler's blocked shots and Hourruttiner's 11 points excited fans from both teams in the fourth.

Antioch switched its defense on McMahon, giving Eric Eckenstahler the duty in the fourth. The plan worked—but backfired somewhat—as McMahon was held to no points, but that opened the lane for Hourruttiner who scored all 11 of Mundelein's points in the fourth. Kessel said McMahon was ordered to move to the outside to draw Eckenstahler away from the basket and to free up Hourruttiner.

"The plan worked. I happened to be in the right place. We were able to set up and run the play again and again," said Hourruttiner, a transfer from Puerto Rico.

That did not go without Eckenstahler (7 blocks) frustrating both McMahon and Stackhouse with two key blocked shots which were converted into Antioch points.

Mundelein Coach Kessel praised Eckenstahler's efforts, "Eckenstahler did a great job of jamming up everything we do. He intimidated us. He was a factor."

Kevin Eckenstahler (12 points) stole the ball from Johnson and followed up with a layup to tie the game 62-62 with 1:50 left to play. Mundelein was leading 66-64 when Hourruttiner missed two freethrows with 5 seconds left to play.

Antioch had run out of timeouts, and Tschanz's 30-foot bomb to win the game at the buzzer bounced out of the bucket.

"We're 1-4 in the conference, but we've played some tough ball," said a frustrated Dresser.

Antioch lost another conference game to Warren 47-36 the following night and are 1-5 in the conference and 7-7 overall. The Sequoits host North Chicago Friday and Stevenson Saturday.

Lady Sequoits put Stevenson behind, look to Zion-Benton

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

The best way to compare the matchup between the Antioch girls basketball team and nationally ranked Stevenson was the ill-fated Chicago Bears and San Francisco 49ers football playoff folly.

Stevenson, who is ranked No. 1 in the state and No. 4 in the nation, had won 28 straight North Suburban Conference games going into the contest and were heavy favorites over underdog Antioch. Quite simply, the Lady Sequoits—like the Bears—knew a blowout was possible.

Stevenson's 59-9 victory would seem to indicate the Patriots (17-1, 8-0) belong in a league of their own.

"What can you do? They're a good team," said Antioch Coach Dave Woods. "We were going up against a team that has more size than us and more quickness than us which created a lot of mismatches."

Ten different Patriots found the hoop with Tamika Catchings leading the way with 15 points. Katie Coleman added 14 points, while Amy Chaness (7 points) and Aarin Bartelt (4 points) contributed off the bench.

"When you shoot 2 out of 36, you're not going to win too many games," Woods said. "We just didn't shoot the ball well."

Prior to Stevenson, Antioch posted a 30-point (58-28) win over North Chicago to begin the new year after a 15-day holiday break.

"That was a good game for us. We played ourselves back into shape," Woods said.

The offense displayed bigger offensive numbers with Erin O'Connell gaining 11 points, Carrie Gofron sinking 10 points, Dana Pierson adding 8 points, and Rachel Hauser contributing 9 points.

"The way our offense is set up a lot of girls have an opportunity to score," Woods said.

Stevenson meanwhile hosts Mundelein Thursday before gearing up for what could be the national game of the year in girls basketball. The Catchings sisters and company confront Pickerington, Ohio, who is ranked No. 1 in the country. The game is set for Jan. 14 at 2:30 p.m. at DePaul University's Alumni Hall.

Antioch will travel to Zion-Benton Saturday in a conference rematch. Earlier in the year, Antioch (4-2, 7-8) downed Zion-Benton 33-28.

"They're going to have the revenge factor on their minds," Woods said of Zion. "We have to get the score down to the 30s or 40s. The key for us is to create pressure on their guards and cause some turnovers."

Blitz troubles continues

Hard times continue to hit the Blitz U-16 girl's traveling team as they lost to the Ela Alliance by a score of 6-1.

The Blitz started the game strong, with each team playing even from end to end of the field. The Blitz had the first good scoring opportunity when Allison Earl ripped a shot that the Ela keeper saved, only her momentum carried the ball across the goal line.

But the tough luck that has followed the Blitz throughout the indoor season once again took over and the referee called it a no-goal. The half ended 3-0 Ela.

Lindenhurst standouts in the game were Sondra Lorang, Melissa Helbig, Nicki Kral and Stacey Alberts.

The Blitz (1-5-1) will face the BASA Blitz from Barrington in the final game of the season at Poplar Creek Sports Centre.

Warren proves tough foe for ACHS Sequoits

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Chuck Ramsey kept his Warren High charges in the locker for almost the entire halftime session Saturday.

Defense was the main topic of discussion. And the Blue Devils proved to be good listeners, allowing Antioch only 14 second half points in posting a 47-36 North Suburban Conference win.

The victory gives Warren a 10-5 overall record and a double-win NSC weekend. It downed struggling Stevenson 70-40 Friday. The Blue Devils know they will have to play defense for 32 minutes against unbeaten Zion-Benton Jan. 13 in an away clash.

"Zion is so talented and so quick. They have great athletes and great shooters," Warren Coach Chuck Ramsey said.

"We played great defense last night and in the second half tonight. Of the four halves, we played good defense in three of them," Ramsey said.

Joe Bongratz was the hero against Stevenson, scoring 27 points. Joel Dangel had 10.

Maurice Foster led the home team with 13 against the Sequoits. Chris Hayes sparked a third-quarter run with 8 of his 10 points. Bongratz was held to one field goal in the first half but finished with 9 points.

"We talked about stepping it up defensively," Foster said.

Double-win conference weekends are rare, and Warren was relishing its feat as it looked ahead to the Zee-Bees and Libertyville away Jan. 14.

"We're excited. That was two great wins for us. We are one of the premiere teams in the conference now," Foster said.

The good news for Warren is the 5-1 conference record and a chance to tie for first in the NSC. The bad news: Playing at Zion-Benton on Friday The 13th in a 7:30 p.m. game.

Working on improved defense has been senior Foster's top priority.

Warren won the all-important battle of the boards in this poor shooting night, 36-24. Daunte McClendon had 9 and Bongratz 8.

The first quarter was the Eckenhauer show. Kevin and Eric combined for the visitors' first 11 points in an 11-7 lead. Antioch lead 13-12 after one.

Antioch outplayed Warren for most of the second quarter, but a three-pointer at the buzzer by Foster gave Warren a 22-22 tie. "We were very fortunate to be tied at halftime," Ramsey said.

"We wanted to work on defense in transition," Dangel said.

The Blue Devils did just that in the second half. Hayes had two three-pointers and a field goal and Ryan Kelter, Foster and Bongratz (two buckets) each contributed on a 16-6 run.

A basket by Foster opened the lead to 13 points, 42-29 after one minute into the fourth quarter.

Warren did not score a field goal from the 5:41 mark on, but it controlled the ball using a variety of sure-handed personnel. Free throws by Eric Bradley, Dangel and Kurt Reimholz were enough.

Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser, whose team had a lost a heart-breaker to Mundelein 66-64 the night before, had had enough by then.

"Warren did not do anything. It was way too physical for us. It got out of hand. It became a wrestling match both ways," he said.

He praised the efforts of the Eckenhauers, who finished with 12 by Eric and 10 by Kevin.

Antioch looks to bounce back against North Chicago Jan. 13 and Stevenson Jan. 14. Both NSC games are 7:30 p.m. in front of the home crowd.

Shocker

second quarter, but Mendralla snuck in for the rebound and a subsequent free throw for a 220-21 deficit. But Moore let the Rams know what was to come when his basket, his lone of the first half, gave Round Lake a 24-21 halftime lead.

Round Lake, paced by Muellemann, had a 20-14 rebounding edge at intermission.

The third quarter was another see-saw battle. A three-pointer by Mendralla and Brian Fischer's only basket of the game gave the Rams a 37-34 lead after three.

Three turnovers for the Rams started the fourth quarter.

Moore answered that with two baskets and a free throw for a four-point RL cushion.

A technical foul on Parr for hitting the backboard resulted in two John Stockwell free throws, a driving lay-in by Moore and a 5-footer from Muellemann for a 47-37 hosts lead.

The lead grew to 11 points when Meadows basket with 4:32 left gave the home team a 49-38 cushion.

Round Lake guarded against the big three-pointer down the stretch, allowing two Parr field goals for an eight-point margin.

Mendralla tried to rescue the Rams from their first conference loss, with a trey which cut the lead to seven.

Allen responded with three free throws for a 10-point, 58-48 lead with 1:17 left.

By then, the Round Lake fans were saying "We Are RL" and wondering what the record may have been like without the seven forfeit losses.

"They outthrustled us and outplayed us. They deserved to win," Rams Coach Greg Groth said.

The Rams (11-4, 4-1), will try and regroup when they host Johnsbury at 7 p.m. Jan. 13. The Skyhawks downed Wauconda by 11-points.

"I am glad we don't have to play tomorrow because a team usually plays flat after a big win like this," Sapochak said.

Instead, it was time to celebrate before another week of intense practices prior to a 7 p.m. clash Jan. 13 home against rival Grant and a non-conference test at Jacobs Jan. 14.

Devillettes gain top 20 spot

Warren Twp. High School Devil-

ettes came home with a top 20 finish and long-lasting memories from national competition in Dallas.

The Devillettes finished 18th in their category during the three-day competition.

"Theresa Kraly and I were very pleased. There was some tough competition. Some teams had dance costumes and back-grounds," Barbara Nohr, advisor, said.

The Blue Devils performed the same routine as they did during halftime shows of home basketball games. It took three minutes, 57 seconds.

The memories will not only be limited to the competition. The team visited Planet Hollywood, a Texas restaurant with line dancing and visited the site of the John F. Kennedy assassination.

The Devillettes are led by captains Eva Canlas and Nyleve Cruz. Team members are: Nikki Kafer, Deanna Binford, Katie McEssy, Kellie Girardi, Donnah Pilapil, Julie Walsworth, Valerie Perreault, Maria Garcia and Laura Ballinger.

Also: Jenny Adamo, Dawn Stewart, Melisa Gaiser, Lydia Fong, Kaari Kafer, Melissa Reeder, Cassie Seng and Viad Rivera.

Nohr thanked the businesses and individuals who combined contributed $8,000 to the trip's cost. The team was invited following a camp at University of Wisconsin-Whitewater last summer and fundraising soon began.

The Devillettes will be in regional competition at Stevenson High Jan. 15. "We hope to qualify for a trip to state," Nohr said.

Warren High grapplers bounce back

The day at Round Lake High may not have started according to plan, but Warren High wrestlers recovered well to post wins over Buffalo Grove and Round Lake.

"We were not ready for Libertyville and they are so tough and ready every meet," Coach Mark Tiffany said.

The Blue Devils lost 50-12 to the Wildcats but beat Round Lake 55-15 and Buffalo Grove 43-22 at Round Lake Saturday.

Warren hosts North Suburban Conference rival Antioch Jan. 13 before traveling to Lake Zurich Quad Jan. 14.

The triangular at Round Lake allowed the top Blue Devils to reach above the 20-win level.

Mike Ray is 22-1 at 140 pounds after two technical falls and a pin. Ray gained one of Warren's two wins against Libertyville.

Kevin Oldham is 20-6 at 152 and he, too, gained a win against the Wildcats, by pin.

Heavyweight Drew Sabor, 13-4, lost in a pin by LHS's Scott Bishop but bounced back to post two wins.

"I was fired up for the next two matches," Sabor said.

Sabor earned a hard-fought 4-2 win against Lake Forest.

Steve Brzyskey was 1-2 at 130 pounds, but had close matches. He downed RL's Joe D'Andrea 22-7.

Round Lake did have its highlights as sophomore Chad Karlen registered wins over Warren and Lake Zurich. Honorio Diaz gained a win over Lake Zurich at 189.

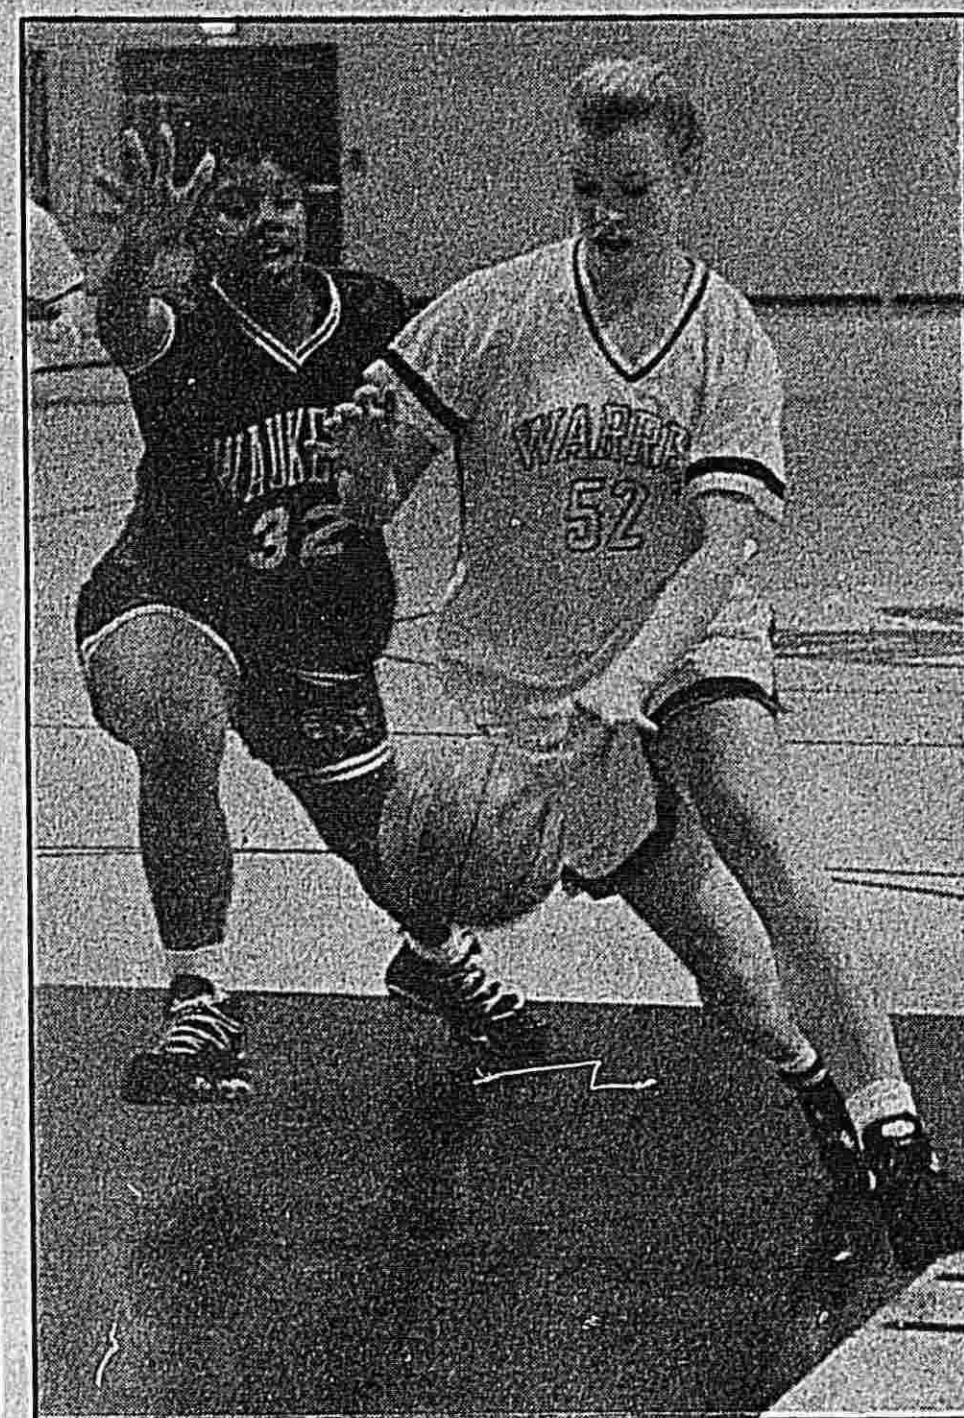

Rod Dukowitz won by pin as did Bill Bigger and Sabor.

"We did not look good. It is too early to tell because this is only our second competition," Panthers Coach Bob Curran said.

Round Lake will once again host teams Jan. 14 as Hindsdale South, New Trier, Stevenson, Zion-Benton and Palatine Fremd visit. The Panthers are at Wauconda in a Jan. 13 Northwest Suburban Conference clash.

Warren, 11-1 overall in duals, survived a 34-29 test from Lake Forest. "We were still on Christmas break and not back into our routine yet," Tiffany said.

The match came down to the upper weights, and Warren won the last three behind Bigger at 171 with a 10-2 major decision; Josh VanHeirsele won by pin in 1:54 at 189 and Sabor won the 4-2 battle. James Struedle and Ray won by pin.

'Banged up' Antioch to face Warren in dual

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Antioch's weekend success at Harlem, Fenton and Lincoln Way could prove costly when the Sequoits wrestlers confront Warren in a North Suburban Conference dual meet showdown.

The Sequoits went 5-1 in the three-day stretch, only losing to Lincoln-Way. Steve Zalapi helped catapult the team past formerly ranked Woodstock. Zalapi, who was 6-0 in meets, was credited with two pins, two technical falls and two major decisions.

"He was really key in beating Woodstock," said Coach Ted Sieckowski. Jim Stevens also posted six victories to lead the Sequoits.

The intense competition, however, resulted in a number of injuries and sicknesses at a critical time when the Sequoits host Warren in a conference dual.

"I know it's a very important meet. It puts the conference co-championship in jeopardy," said Sieckowski said. "I think we can still get it done."

Libertyville and Warren lead the conference with undefeated dual meet records. Antioch's only conference loss came against Libertyville, making the Warren meet a must-win situation for Antioch to stay within reach of the conference title.

"If Warren is ready to go, it's going to be a real nail-biter. I'd like to field a full team," Sieckowski said.

Nagging injuries and sicknesses are plaguing heavyweight Jason Krause, Jason Breen and Justin Dyer, while 103-pounder Lukas Dyer is fighting a potential weight problem. A number of other grapplers are questionable as well.

"We're really banged up," Sieckowski said. "Knowing exactly what we're going to do, I won't know until the last minute. I'll have to do some juggling."

The match is scheduled to begin at 6 p.m. at Antioch High.

Warren bowlers gain wins, set for challenge

Warren High's bowling team bounced back from a sub-par showing at Prospect's tourney to notch two victories in dual match competition.

The Blue Devils downed Grant 2,691 to 2,004 and Stevenson 2,591 to 2,085.

"Those are the kind of numbers you need to have to compete at state competition," Coach Bob Tatgenhorst said.

Warren is at the Fenton Invite Jan. 14.

"We finally started to get strikes and we are marking better and hitting the pocket with more authority," Tatgenhorst said.

He described the Prospect meet as a "wake-up call." Warren was 13th of 16 teams with 4,724.

Angela Hanna led the Warren bowlers with a 607 against Grant with a high game of 204; Joanna Salatta had a 575 and a 223 high game; Danni Novak had a 537 and 194 high game and Heidi Balmes had a 515 and Karleen Scholl, one of three junior varsity bowlers called up, had a 518.

Against Stevenson, Hanna had a 551 series and 214 high game.

School was a varsity bowler for the second straight night and had a 546, 214 high game.

Novak had a 533 and Kim Echtenacher had a 509 and Salatta rounded out the scores with a 506.

The coach described the Fenton meet as one which will have several power bowling teams.

Following the meet, a home meet with Grayslake Jan. 19 is the last meet before the North Suburban Conference meet Jan. 27.

Avon Township youth leagues set sign-ups

Early mail-in registration for Avon Twp. Youth Baseball (ATYB) has been sent to all participants in last season's program. Mail-in registration forms are being accepted through Feb. 15.

A copy of the player's birth certificate is required, unless they played with ATYB the previous summer. ATYB offers boys and girls ages seven to 18 the opportunity to play softball or baseball. Most teams begin play in May.

General registration will be held at Grayslake Park Dist. Feb. 4 and Round Lake Park Dist. Feb. 18 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.—also at Avon Twp. Bldg. on Feb. 9 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

All uniforms not turned in from last year must be turned in or paid for before the child will be allowed to play.

For further information about the ATYB program, or for a registration form, call 223-9299.

Fourth quarter blues sink NSC hopes of Warren girls

For the second time this season, a close basketball game was decided in the final quarter.

And the Warren Township High School girls team went 0-2 after losing to Libertyville 56-44 Monday night. The win gave the Wildcats sole possession of second place in the North Suburban Conference.

Warren simply could not match up with the taller Wildcats. Julie Virta scored 5 fourth quarter field goals as she sparked her team to a 22-12 run. She finished with 28 points, 18 in the second half.

Jessica Narajowski had 13 points, on 6-of-8 free throw shooting in the final stanza.

"They started everyone over 5-foot, 10-inches, but we only have two players over 5-10. They had a height advantage on us. But I thought we controlled the tempo and were right there but we did not get the job done," Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said.

Warren had an 8-point lead in the first half but it turned to a two-point heading into the final stanza.

Julie Minuskin led the Warren effort with 20 points as the Blue Devils slipped to 12-3 overall, 5-2 NSC. Felicia Sartin was held to 9 points.

"Part of the problem is we have so many easy games at the beginning of the year with a lot of 30, 40 point wins. You always have to concentrate," Campbell said.

For example, next year the Blue Devils are getting out of the Thanksgiving tourney they have won each year it has been offered - Mundelein and heading to Deerfield. "That is tougher competition," Campbell said.

Warren's other loss of a fourth-quarter battle came at the hands of Thornwood in the title game at Maine East.

For the rest of this year, which starts Jan. 14 with the final trip to Fenton and Jan. 17 at Mundelein, Campbell believes his team can recover and have a strong season.

"Remember we are 15-3, not 3-15," he stated.

LHS improves to 12-5 and 7-1 NSC. It rallied for a 5-point halftime deficit after being down 26-18.

"It was a total team effort," LHS Coach Tom Murphy said.

Tammi Sears played well on defense against Minuskin and blocked 3 shots. Jessica Parsons rebounded well and Emily Borg gave strength off the bench, according to Murphy.

Warren's best quarter was the second when it outscored the hosts 10-4, three of the points coming in the final minute. Minuskin had 2 field goals and Amy Jensen (3 points), Carrie Schneider (5 points) and Tracie Fielder (4 points) all contributed. Only Minuskin would be heard from in the second half.

Bowlers take home trophy

The Grayslake Girls Bowling team took home the "B" bracket trophy in the 16-team Jacobs tournament, Jan. 6.

"The kids did a nice job," said Glenn Watt, Grayslake bowling coach. "It's great springboard to the second half of the season. The tournament was a good all around effort by the team."

Nikki Moetti, who averaged 135 per game, had the team's high game score posting a 187. "Moretti pulled off a very difficult 4, 7, 10 pin split," Watt said.

Leading the Rams with an average of 145 for five games was Kristy Disch. Other high scorers were: Kristyn Sieger averaging 135; Jackie Graham averaging 129 and Jenny Kohl averaging 119.

Grayslake takes on Libertyville, Jan. 13 at Fairhaven Lanes and Warren, Jan. 19 at Bertrands.

Bakery to add gourmet coffee

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

There are a lot of changes to the familiar Bernhardt Bakery in Antioch: a new owner, a new location, and an expanded menu. The bakery, formerly located in a gas station on Route 83, has moved back to its old location on 775 Main, next to the library. But, there is nothing old about the bakery.

The building has been remodeled, increasing the seating space to over 20. A full line of gourmet coffees, cappuccino, espresso, and gourmet teas are now available to sample, along with the good, old-fashioned baking Bernhardt's is famous for.

New owner, Jayme Leonhardt, had been an employee of the bakery since 1990. A fourth-generation, life-long resident of Antioch and graduate of Antioch Community High School, Leonhardt is very excited about the changes.

"It will still be called Bernhardt's Bakery," said Leonhardt. "We'll offer the same high-quality baked goods everyone knows and enjoys."

The bakery opened for business on Friday, Jan. 6, but a grand opening is planned at a later date. "We will have a big grand opening sale," said Leonhardt.

Leonhardt said with the building expansion, Bernhardt's is a great place to drop by and take a break, while enjoying great coffee. The bakery will be open Tuesday through Saturday from 5 a.m. to 6 p.m. On Sunday, the hours are 6 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Police arrest man accused of scams

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

A man who was arrested by Johnsburg police for allegedly scamming business owners and organizations, may find himself in even hotter water.

Joseph R. Dehn of 11 N. Willow, McHenry, reportedly won the confidence of businesses by taking money for ad layouts for brochures and coupon books which he never delivered.

Dehn, 41, was arrested by Johnsburg Police, Jan. 3, after he allegedly collected a total of between $9,000 and $10,000 from 90 to 100 shops and services in town and the surrounding area, said Chief Ken Rydberg.

The chief explained Dehn charged anywhere from $60 to $240 per layout of advertisements for a business directory. He never produced the article for his customers.

He was charged with 12 counts of theft of services by the Johnsburg police. Dehn was taken to the McHenry County Jail in Woodstock, and his bond was set at $12,000.

Last year, Dehn passed a similar scam throughout the town of Fox Lake.

Fox Lake Police Department's Lt. Edward Gerretsen explained Dehn scammed the not-for-profit drug awareness group CHOICES by promising them a percentage of money raised from coupon books.

Only a small amount of books came out and when they did "the coupons were expired," said CHOICES director Judy Prasil. "I was very embarrassed," she added.

Prasil said upon the first meeting with Dehn, she knew something was wrong. She told former police officer and village trustee Charlie Burke that she just didn't feel right about the man, but a friend of hers who happens to be a village business person assured her the man was a good apple. "She told me she knows the family (of Dehn)," said Prasil. But she stressed she can't blame her friend for trying to help. "It isn't her fault either. He scammed her!"

"We were supposed to get 50 percent of the profits," Prasil explained. Now her annual and popular Overnite program at Grant Community High School may never happen. "We had it (the money) earmarked for a lot of programs," said Prasil.

Lt. Gerretsen said because CHOICES never gave any money, Dehn was not arrested in his town, but he did send the case to the Illinois State's Attorney's Office, but didn't hear anything.

Gerretsen then sent the case on Dehn to the Illinois Attorney General and is awaiting a response.

Prasil said she is concerned because of others who have also suffered from the so-called scammer. Business and organizations in Lake Villa were susceptible to Dehn, said Prasil, as well as at least one business in Round Lake—a bank.

The Village of Antioch has had encounters with the McHenry man as well.

Lt. Charles Watkins of the Antioch Police Department checked his records and found Dehn had caused some problems in May of 1993 with a group from Antioch High School.

Dehn's business, then known as J.A.S. Marketing, approached the Sequoit Pride parents group and told them they could make a profit of $9,000 if they take part in a coupon book promotion.

Months went by and Dehn's project never came about. "As of this time, no one has found a coupon book, or the offender," said Lt. Watkins.

Again, because no money was passed to Dehn by the high school group, he was not arrested.

Porter says new Congress to be more open

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

Congressman John Edward Porter (R-10th district) says the biggest change constituents will see now that the 104th Congress has been sworn in is a new openness.

"The biggest change we made the first day," said Porter. "Before (the 104th Congress) meetings could be closed with a vote by the committee. Now the only reason a meeting will be closed to the public and the press is if it is a matter of national security."

The change in rules is important because it forces Congress to do business in public, according to the congressman.

"The public will see the entire process," Porter said. "Nothing will be hidden."

Another immediate change in the way business is conducted is the amount of time Congress will be spending in session during the first few months.

"During the first 93 days we will be in session five days a week," said Porter. The change was apparent on day one as Congress remained in session late into the night debating rules. Porter says previously Congress would meet only two or three days per week prior to budget discussions following the late January State of the Union address.

Porter says the Republican Contract with America is a top priority facing the Congress.

"We will be debating the issues and bring them to a vote," said Porter who believes some constituents may be under the wrong impression believing Republicans promised to approve legislation on each of the issues.

"We promised to bring the issues to the floor and debate them," said Porter.

One issue Porter is against is term limits. "I believe the American public deserves to have the issue debated in Congress but I am not in favor of term limits and neither is Henry Hyde but I believe we should have a vote on the proposal." The Congressman is against the proposal because he believes he takes away the decision of voters to elect officials.

"It will give a lot of power to the unelected bureaucracy," said Porter. "I don't believe that was the intention of our forefathers."

Porter says the message of the November general election was to reform Congress.

"Voters want Congress to be more efficient, less wasteful and smaller," said Porter.

"What we are undertaking is to Porter carry out that mandate. I liken it to a house that has been lived in for 40 years. The rooms are filled with things. Some things work well but some sit rusty and are still there. We are looking at each item to find a way to make it more efficient. It's a tall order."

Housing commission goal is 50 units annually

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

First established in 1991, officials from the Lake County Affordable Housing Commission report the commission is well on its feet and is providing affordable housing in many areas of the county.

As the only county in the state with such a commission, one of its accomplishments in 1994 alone includes funding 83 housing units through the Lake County HOME Consortium Program with 97 more units proposed in the upcoming year.

"There is a shortfall of affordable housing—a shortfall which is going to increase as the years go by," said AHC Chairman William Krueger.

According to a report by the Lake County Planning Department, 56,806 affordable units were needed in 1990, although only 30,675 units were available. By the year 2000, more than 63,000 units will be needed, but only 34,000 units will be available.

"Can the Affordable Housing Commission make an impact on the availability of affordable housing in Lake County. The answer is: You bet it can," Krueger said.

The commission has defined "affordable" as housing opportunities for those individuals with incomes below 80 percent of the county median, which is currently about $40,000 for a family of four.

As its own separate non-profit corporation, the commission draws its revenues by administering the HOME program, contributions from communities, and contributions from private institutions and organizations. The commission had a balance in excess of $39,000 at the end of 1994.

"The Affordable Housing Commission is now standing on its own feet," Krueger told County Board members. "We are completely independent from any direct funding from this board," he added.

Based at the Demonstration House in Gurnee, the AHC consists of 30 volunteer members who meet regularly and advocate the increase of affordable housing throughout Lake County.

Some of its goals for 1995 include assisting organizations in the implementation of affordable housing programs, developing a regional senior housing plan, establishing a program to deliver 50 units of homeownership per year, and identifying a site to develop multi-family housing.

"Our goal is to provide 50 housing units per year," Krueger said.

County Board liaison to AHC Robert Buhai said, "We're really beginning to make a dent in affordable housing. I think there is going to be national recognition."

Helander: Motor voter registration on hold

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Lake County voters will not be registering to vote while renewing or obtaining driver's licenses in the near future. The Illinois Legislature has failed to enact "enabling legislation" to implement the new federal motor voter law.

"We have a federal law," said County Clerk Willard Rooks Helander, "that is essentially an unfunded mandate. To conform to federal requirements there must be enabling legislation."

The new law would have allowed residents the option of registering to vote in various locations such as public aid offices, motor vehicle licensing bureaus, and other areas. According to Helander, the state is holding up the registration program because of fears regarding potential registration fraud, lack of controls, and record keeping.

Helander believes until a comprehensive program can be developed which will insure "fairness, orderliness, and is fraud free," the state is acting in a sensible manner. "It will be a massive project," said Helander.

Software will need to be designed to carry out the program, Helander explained. Forms must also be created.

"I think Illinois is being prudent," said Helander.

Forest preserve dispute delays counting of deer

The Lake County Forest Preserve has delayed plans for counting deer and culling of the herd, if necessary, following a dispute over the use of salt blocks.

Davida Terry, prominent wildlife protector and advocate for deer, charged the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. with baiting deer as part of a program to thin ranks of herds found in all parts of the county.

Terry said she and Craig Hendee found salt blocks at three forest preserves—Wright Woods, MacArthur Woods and Ryerson Woods—all south county preserves.

Terry and Hendee, also a prominent wildlife activist, said they were See DEER page B2

CLC begins literacy program

The College of Lake County began a new partnership with six area companies to conduct a $1.3 million workplace literacy program. Participants in the effort, which is part of a federally funded national program, are CLC, Baxter Healthcare Corp. (Round Lake, MacLean-Fogg (Mundelein), General Metal Products Corp. (Lincolnshire), Kenall Manufacturing Co. (Gurnee), Nichols-Homeshield (Lincolnshire) and Stone Container Corp. (North Chicago).

The three-year program will be funded through a U.S. Department of Education grant in the amount of $898,373 and contributions from the participating companies and CLC totaling $460,398. The funding will cover basic skills instruction and customized curriculum development conducted by CLC at the participating companies.

The federal grant is the second received by CLC to work with area companies on workplace literacy training. An earlier Department of Education grant for $373,192 funded an 18-month workplace literacy program with Abbott Laboratories (Abbott Park and North Chicago), Baxter Healthcare, MacLean-Fogg and Metalex (Libertyville). About 750 employees received training through the program, which was completed on Nov. 30, 1994.

The new program will serve about 300 employees. "The training will be designed to meet the changing needs of the workplace and will help employees be more effective on the job," said Mary Kay Gee, project director of CLC's National Workplace Literacy program.

"The educational curriculum will emphasize common needs and issues the companies share," Gee said. "In this way, it will be able to serve as a model program other companies might adopt," she added.

The program will include setting short- and long-term goals for each participating employee and providing customized instruction for employees from four job categories—machinists, machine operators, industrial manufacturing technicians and customer service representatives.

"These employees need math, communication, problem-solving and decision-making skills in today's workplace," Gee said. "They also require good reading and writing skills to understand and interpret instructional manuals for computers and other high-technology equipment they use in their jobs."

The program will benefit the participating companies by increasing their ability to be competitive in the global marketplace, Gee said.

Richard Sobock, quality assurance manager at General Metal Products, agrees. "Our production line employees need a combination of improved basic skills and advanced technology skills to meet our Total Quality Management goals. Our participation in the CLC program will help them become more productive."

An important part of enhancing employees' productivity is building their self-confidence, according to the participating companies.

"Employees enjoy learning, improve as contributors and, most importantly, feel good about themselves," said Joan Trovillion, senior human resource representative for Baxter Round Lake.

Ann Merrick, human resources manager at Kenall Manufacturing Co., notes that learning empowers employees, which benefits companies and employees. "We want our employees to gain confidence in themselves, increase their English skills and advance in the company," she said.

Paulson joins clerk's staff

Martin Paulson of Libertyville has joined the staff of Lake County Clerk Willard Rooks Helander. Paulson will serve as an interim assessment team member along with Pamela J. Naslund. His immediate focus will include reviewing financial systems currently in place, and all functions and services of the Tax Extension and Redemption Dept.

Naslund will continue her role of documenting clerical staff needs and the level of additional computerization recommended for vital records and election records.

Paulson holds an MBA from DePaul University with a major in finance and concentrated study in real estate. He has a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Notre Dame University. He graduated from both programs with honors. Paulson is also a certified assessor with course work from the Illinois Property Assessment Institute.

"I am extremely pleased to have the high level of academic training combined with the practical experience that Martin Paulson brings to the position," said Helander. "He has served as deputy assessor at the township level and, additionally, as president of the Lake County Board of Health, he has worked closely with administrators and board members to supervise an annual budget of $23 million. In considering several well-qualified individuals with financial backgrounds, Paulson proved to be ideally matched to the department's needs."

Paulson stated that he is excited about the opportunity to work with Helander to improve service and bring cost efficiencies to the office. "Willard and I share a private sector business background," he noted, "blended with a strong commitment to public service. Our philosophies on responsiveness to the public and emphasizing efficiency make this position an exciting challenge."

Helander added that the assessment process is expected to take several months. "We will also be simultaneously undergoing asbestos removal in our office area, two elections, and the eventual relocation of the Tax Extension and Redemption Dept. from the sixth floor to our first floor office. Major physical disruptions will precede organizational refinements. It's a good thing I like to stay busy and work hard."

BPW gives to women's groups

The Business and Professional Women of Lake County (BPW) will be distributing funds to organizations from money raised at their "Diamond Gala Dinner Dance."

On Jan. 12 at 7:45 p.m. at Lambs Farm in Libertyville, the BPW will be donating funds to help other women throughout the county including the LaCasa organization, A Safe Place, and the Bottomless Closet.

A portion of the funds raised will also go to the BPW Scholarship fund.

On Nov. 19, the county-wide BPW held the "very successful" dinner/dance in which 120 people participated.

President Trudy Hellios of Fox Lake, reported one of the highlights of the evening was the raffle prizes which became a source of entertainment as well as profit.

"On behalf of the Business and Professional Women of Lake County, we want to personally thank participants for their generous support," said Hellios. "I believe this Gala has established a successful start to what we are confident will become an annual positive county-community wide effort in support of these organizations. We look forward to continued future support and the generosity is greatly appreciated by the many women whose lives their participation and donation has touched."—by TINA SWIECH

Deer

checking the three locations for evidence of deer prior to the district's enactment of efforts to cull the herds with marksmen.

"Placing the blocks is blatant baiting. The county ought to be ashamed," Terry fumed. "Why don't they just hire some sharpshooters and save the expense of hiring helicopters and counters," Terry said angrily, referring to procedures where the animals are counted in aerial surveys from a helicopter.

In response to the charges, the Forest Preserve immediately removed the salt blocks and delayed counting of the herds for three weeks.

"We don't see any evidence of the salt having an effect on the deer population," said Andy Kimmel, director of environmental education and public affairs for the forest preserve. "To make sure we are waiting three weeks to count the population."

Kimmel said the forest preserve's finance and administration committee will meet Friday. One item on the agenda is to approve submission of an application to the Illinois Department of Conservation to allow culling.

"The application must be approved before we can move forward," Kimmel said. "If the counts show we don't need to cull the herd, then we will not proceed."

The goal of the forest preserve is to maintain 15 deer per square mile. "Research has shown woodlands of this type can support 15 deer per square mile adequately and without damage to the ecosystem of other animals," Kimmel said. "We want to have deer at each forest preserve, we just want to curtail them so they are not damaging the habitat of other animals."

The placement of the salt blocks by the district's wildlife biologist was a mistake according to Kimmel. "He was experimenting to see if salt would work as a bait to lure the deer if culling was necessary. In the past we have used corn and other items. He felt the salt might be easier to manage," Kimmel said the normal procedure is to bait after the herd has been counted and culling is approved.

Deer were culled in Wright Woods last year and in Wright Woods, Ryerson Woods and MacArthur Woods in 1993.

Hoof prints were found in MacArthur Woods, according to Terry, but she said there was no evidence of deer in Ryerson Woods.

The deer activist, who is a member of the forest district's wildlife advisory committee, said the counting exercise is part of the county's "organized deception" regarding a policy of shooting deer.

Candidates to file petitions with clerk

Candidates for municipal, park district and library district offices must file their nominating petitions for the April 4 elections between Jan. 16 and Jan. 23. The petitions will be taken at each of the local units of government offices. "Filers should be aware," said Willard Rooks Helander, Lake County Clerk, "that some of these local offices will be closed on Jan. 16 in observance of Martin Luther King's birthday. They should check on the hours of the business where they will file." If that particular office is closed Jan. 16, filing dates will be between Jan. 17 and 23.

"It is important to note," Helander added, "that filers must submit a receipt with their nominating package indicating they have completed and filed a Statement of Economic Interest." It would be best, she indicated, that candidates file the Statements of Economic Interest in person at the Lake County Clerk's office to ensure they have the receipt in their possession. "Because of the compressed time frame for filing petitions, we cannot guarantee that receipts for statements filed by mail will be received by candidates by Jan. 23," said Helander.

Offices to close for King's birthday

All Secretary of State offices and facilities will be closed for Martin Luther King's birthday, Sec. of State George H. Ryan has announced. The only exception is the Ford City facility, which is open seven days a week in the Ford City Mall. The holiday is observed by all state agencies.

Driver services facilities outside Cook Co. and the Chicago West, Midlothian and Niles facilities in Cook Co., which normally are open Tuesday through Saturday, will be closed Saturday, Jan. 14, and will reopen Tuesday, Jan. 17.

All offices that normally are open Monday through Friday will be closed Monday, Jan. 16, and will resume business Tuesday, Jan. 17.

AT A GLANCE

CLC services closed Jan. 17

GRAYSLAKE—Spring registration, student advisement and other college services will not be available from 8 a.m. to noon on Tuesday, Jan. 17 at the College of Lake County's Grayslake and Lakeshore campuses and the Southlake Educational Center. Services will be suspended during the morning to allow faculty and staff to attend orientation meetings. All college services will resume at noon and continue according to the regular schedule. Registration hours are listed in the CLC spring class schedule. For information call C-O-L-L-E-G-E.

Trail deal in works

LINDENHURST—A complicated easement arrangement involving village boundary agreement is in the works between the Lake County Board, the Lake County Forest Preserve and Lindenhurst. At issue is an easement from McDonald Woods extending to Fourth Lake Fen and the Rollins Savannah for a trail system for the Forest Preserve. Many conditions must be met by all parties and one of the conditions is a request by Lindenhurst for a boundary agreement with the County which would allow Lindenhurst to keep 209 acres in its sanitary district.

Board, road boss squabble

LAKE VILLA TOWNSHIP—Highway Commissioner Jim Semmerling is withholding his permission for a major drainage project in the Chesney Shore subdivision until the township board gives him an irrevocable bond of $20,000. The board maintains the funds aren't available until February when grant funds will be received. Also, the board is asking for Semmerling to allow Lake County Stormwater Management review the project to lower the expense. Semmerling said the project, as proposed, will not help the flooding conditions in the area.

Train whistle meeting

ANTIOCH—A crowd can be expected for the meeting between area residents, municipal officials, the Illinois Commerce Commission, and the Wisconsin-Central Railroad. The meeting will start at 7 p.m. on Jan. 16 at the Antioch Village Hall. While some homeowners complain about the inability to sleep as a result of increased train traffic on the rail lines, other citizens have voiced concerns regarding safety. At this time, two railroad crossings in Antioch do not have safety gates, and one does not have any warnings.

Low salaries prove costly

HAWTHORN WOODS—Although Hawthorn Woods posted Lake County's lowest crime rate (4.22 per 1,000 residents), village officials are concerned about the high turnover rate of officers in the department. One official described the department as a breeding ground for producing officers for other departments. Officials said the department hires and trains young officers who eventually leave the department after a short time. Police and village officials said officers leave Hawthorn Woods for jobs at higher-paying departments. Hawthorn Woods trustees will begin looking into offering higher salaries when it begins its budget negotiations in the spring.

Theater may be largest

LAKE ZURICH—A proposal to have the largest movie theater in Lake County was made to village officials this week. Lake Zurich Theatre owner Tom Rhyen presented a plan to add three screens to the theater on Route 12, which would increase it to 13 screens. The addition would allow for better diversity of films and would meet the requests of customers who filled out surveys and put responses in suggestion boxes, according to Jerry Wagner, vice president of operations. The proposal was sent to the Village Plan Commission for review.

Rockenbach causes lights out

GRAYSLAKE—With urbanization of open space in Lake County, even the best laid plans can sometimes cause problems. Such is the case with Rockenbach Chevrolet's new, 55,000 square-foot facility in Grayslake which features a brilliantly lit sales lot on 18 acres along Rte. 120. The lighting works well for the sales lot but some drivers say its brightness obliterates drivers' vision as they approach the Atkinson Rd. intersection. Motorists traveling eastbound on Rte. 120 say they cannot see the lighted intersection or cars pulling onto Rte. 120 because of the glare cast by the Rockenbach lights. Village Manager Mike Ellis said village engineers are looking at the possibility of increasing the intensity of the intersection light, redirecting the beam of some of the sales lot's lights or both options.

Grever's property annexed

KILDEER—Ela Township Supervisor and Lake County Board Member Robert Grever (R-Lake Zurich) woke up one morning last week and found himself the village's newest resident after his home and three others were annexed. Grever built his home on Quentin Road in 1961 on land that was acquired by his grandmother during the Civil War 130 years ago. The 200-acre farm remained untouched until the 1970s, when it was bought by developers and annexed into either Lake Zurich or Kildeer. The four homes, comprising approximately 5 acres of land, were surrounded by Kildeer, leaving officials with a logical decision.

Shooting victim arrested

LIBERTYVILLE—Police arrested David Martinez, 17, Round Lake Heights, on two four-count warrants Tuesday, charging him with obstructing justice and the unlawful use of a weapon. Martinez was shot New Year's Eve in the abdomen by a 16 year-old Round Lake Beach resident who was arrested and charged with the unlawful use of a weapon and reckless discharge of a firearm.

Magnet school to be offered

MUNDELEIN—Elementary School District 75 will provide the area with the first magnet school, an alternative to traditional learning. The district is accepting applications for the position of principal through February, and the school will open in 1996.

Gurnee sets dorm hearing

GURNEE—A handful of Gurnee residents ventured out into a snowstorm Monday to learn the status of the Six Flags Great America dorm request. Gurnee village trustees did accept the findings of fact from the plan commission but did not act on the matter. Instead, trustees announced the dorm request will be on the Feb. 6 agenda. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. at village hall, 325 N. O'Plaine Rd.

Pickup driver dies in crash

JOHNSBURG—Bobby R. Irvin, 32, of 3002 Emily McHenry, was pronounced dead by the McHenry County Coroner's office at the scene of a one-car accident, Jan. 8. According to McHenry City police, just minutes before, a call came in about an altercation at the Olde Bridge Tavern at 1334 N. Riverside Dr. Two men were involved in the argument, including Irvin, said police. At one point, Irvin allegedly pulled a small caliber handgun out of his jacket, and fired one shot at the floor. Then he took off down the road in his pickup. The other man left in his vehicle also. Police in the Village of McCullom Lake located one of the men who left the bar, and Irvin, was found in his truck which was wedged between a tree and a cyclone fence, in the 1300 block of Johnsborg, one block from Bay Road.

Vintage clothing show

FOX LAKE—If you like vintage clothing, or just enjoy history and fashions, don't miss "Stored Among the Treasures" Friday night. The skit will be held at the Johnsborg High School Jan. 13, at 7:30 p.m.. All proceeds from the show will go towards the church.

Primary election absentee ballots available now

Voters who will be out of the county Feb. 28 may vote in the primary election by absentee ballot.

"Applications for absentee ballots are now available for the Feb. 28 primary election from the county clerk's office," announced Willard Rooks Helander, Lake County Clerk. Primary elections will be conducted in Highland Park, Zion, Ward 1 in North Chicago, and Wards, 1, 2, 4, 6, and 7 in Waukegan. Applications may be obtained at the county building, 18 N. ## From student to lawyer to teacher, thanks to CLC

Rick Custin never felt challenged in high school, but enrollment in the College of Lake County turned him around and opened up whole new worlds for him.

He found the faculty and staff at CLC "very supportive," encouraging him to pursue his goal of going on to law school. Upon graduation from CLC, he earned a bachelor's degree and a doctor of jurisprudence.

After establishing a successful law practice in California, Rick returned to Lake County, where he practices law part time and is chair of Business, Accounting, Marketing and International Business and teaches business law and computer science at Carthage College in Kenosha, Wis.

The CLC experience turned Rick's life around and it might do the same for yours!

Anti-crime laws tough on youth

Illinois is going to be especially tough on young lawbreakers under new anti-crime laws. It's about time.

The state now can take away licenses of drivers younger than 21 with even a trace of alcohol found in their systems. New laws covering first-time violators and repeat offenders are bound up in the so-called Use It And Lose It bill.

Juveniles as young as 10 involved in violent crimes can be detained for more than 30 days providing they are wards of the Dept. of Children and Family Services.

Another step in the right direction was creating locked facilities for juvenile delinquents aged 10 to 13.

Stiffer anti-gang laws make it easier to prosecute 15 or 16 year olds for violent or serious crimes involving guns, drugs or gang activity.

Citizens can breathe easier because of other anti-crime measures now on the books including:

- *Expanded death-penalty eligibility for murders committed during drive-by shootings.

- *Greater penalties for attempted murder of a police officer, corrections officer or paramedic.

- *Stiffer penalties involving possession of an unlawful handgun.

- *Permission for media use of names of youths younger than 17 who are convicted in juvenile court of offenses involving gangs, guns or drugs.

To their credit, Illinois lawmakers have heeded the call of citizens to make it tougher on lawbreakers, especially younger criminals.

Eye magnet school for new dimension

Mundelein Elementary School isn't alone in the quest for educational excellence, but Dist. 75 officials deserve applause for pushing a concept that is a refreshing response to criticism everywhere of stagnation in the public schools.

The Mundelein response is creation of the area's first magnet school, utilizing facilities in Lincoln School, the community's only elementary building in the years before marked population growth.

Right now, Mundelein's magnet school is only a concept and a plan for the future. Supt. Richard Lanaghan has begun a search for a principal and is forming a committee to formulate a focus for the school.

The Lincoln magnet school will draw kindergarten through fifth grade students from the system's neighborhood buildings. A magnet program for upper-graders will be offered at Carl Sandburg School.

Somewhat curiously, school officials have decided the new school will not be geared for gifted students. The immediate benefits of the magnet program will be to give parents a choice for which building children will attend and free up new space to provide for anticipated growth of 100 students per year in the immediate future.

Hopefully, the magnet school will be more than a space safety valve.

VIEWPOINT Finding the right way: saving our Republic

Publisher

Maybe the pundits and political soothsayers are making the analysis of America's rightward turn more complicated than necessary.

Maybe the change of command resulted from a realization on the part of heart-sick Americans that a switch in leadership was needed to save our beloved country before it's too late. The seemingly shock-proof citizenry simply was fed up with the way things are. Two worker families have had enough gangs, class warfare, child killings, welfare cheats and oppressive taxation.

Congressman Phil Crane, whose conservative values and principles are cherished by a majority of voters in west Lake County and northwest Cook County, is the only leader who put the historic right turn in terms of electors wanting to save the nation. They were more scared than angry.

Crane, who has withstood the battering of the district's liberal press for years, compares American history under 40 years of Democratic dominance to the pathway toward the Fall of Rome.

America's eyelash escape from a sovietized health care system being orchestrated by the misguided co-presidency and a phalanx of Democratic dupes may have been the wake-up call for voters to take action. The electors awakened from liberal lullabies.

Middle America finally saw Republicans as their last best hope to restore a system of government where they will be able to keep more of what they earn, thereby providing for a better life. Democrats, for all their platitudes and promises, have left a dismal system of confiscatory taxation that stifles initiative and competition, and has created a welfare state that is undercutting and demoralizing the citizenry.

Liberals forget that middle America is made up of more than white males. The broad middle ground of our melting pot society is value centered, sharing above all the disdain for being delt with by Democratic leaders as a collection of stereotypes and special interests, mere pawns creating a revenue stream to fuel a central government racing toward classic socialism.

Democrats don't get it. Maybe Republicans do. Changing course was worth the chance, perhaps a last chance at that.

LETTERS TO THE Editor

Appreciate candidate Editor:

1994 was a memorable year.

As a candidate for Lake Co. Treasurer, I remember fondly the numerous parades, spaghetti dinners, pancake breakfasts, political forums and the countless public gatherings I attended. I enjoyed them all. The events and my candidacy provided me with the opportunity to meet, greet and get to know many Lake Countians. The support and generosity given to me by the community members will always be remembered and has certainly been appreciated.

A special acknowledgment to my patient and understanding family, co-workers at Lake Co. Society for Human Development and fellow candidates. My staunch supporter and greatest fan, my dad, Morton Einbinder, deserves special praise.

My best wishes to Jack Anderson for a healthy and successful term in office.

More to teaching job Editor:

I am a veteran Round Lake teacher at the top of the current salary schedule, and, until reading the Dec. 30 "Commentary," I was satisfied with my top salary of $55,288. (Confirmed by Kurt Valentin, director of business affairs.)

Now, however, I would like Jack Roeser, who seems to take on himself the job of speaking for my employers, the Round Lake taxpayers, to send me a check for the extra $11,000 plus to which he says I am entitled.

Also, since I have to arrive at Magee, my school, at 7:50 a.m. and can't leave till 3:20 p.m., seven and a half hours, I apparently deserve one hour overtime pay for every day I work, or Mr. Roeser can come to Magee at 2:20 and take my last hour class.

Most teachers routinely work beyond the seven and a half hours (not six and a half), and 180 days for which they are paid, and they are not, nor do they usually ask to be paid for this time; they also pay for many things they use in their classrooms for their students without expecting to be reimbursed.

Sometimes, however, some teachers take on school responsibilities, such as coaching, which require a great deal of additional time, and for which they are paid in addition to their salaries. Retirement Report figures reflect this.

Finally, a teacher can receive 75 percent of the average of his last four years of teaching—not his "final pay" upon retiring, but only if he has 38 years of credit, not the 30 years normally found in industry.

The "self" the "self-serving statistics" in the Dec. 30 Commentary is serving is Mr. Roeser.

PARTY LINES

Geo-Karis fills in as 'mom,' Topinka renews ethnic heritage

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) had the honor of "substituting for mom" and swearing in new State Treasurer Judy Baar Topinka during inauguration ceremonies in Springfield, Monday.

Geo-Karis

Geo-Karis, a vocally proud ethnic Greek-American, served in the Illinois Senate with Sen. Topinka for close to three terms and was a personal friend of Topinka's late mother, Lillian Baar.

Topinka was proudly endorsed by the Hellenic Voters of Illinois in her election drive and thanked leaders of the Greek-American community for their support.

Topinka, a fan of classical Greek literature and Greek ancient history, always cites the "blood sacrifice" which she claims to have made at Delphi in Greece.

Topinka before her first election to the post of state representative in the old seventh legislative district in 1980.

"Like the ancients, I wanted to go to Delphi to see if I would get any vibes as to whether or not I would or could win or not," she said. "I bought a shiny, new Susan B. Anthony dollar and slipped through the crack at the site of the former oracle... and then went on to spill blood at Delphi." She cites the existence of the dollar in the cracks of the Delphi as "proof an American woman could successfully run for office in a democracy in the Greek tradition."

Following the campaign, Topinka made a return trip to Greece and left a shiny dime among the cracks of the Temple of Poseidon.

"There is nothing better than going to Greece every once in a while to get a rebirth of feeling about democracy and the place it all started," Topinka said.

Also present at the swearing-in ceremony was Topinka's son, Lt. Joseph Baar Topinka, who is currently stationed with the Army's Judge Advocate Corps at Ft. Wainwright, Alaska. He refers to the senator as "Auntie Geo."

On a limb—Running true to form, Fox Lake Mayor Ken Hamsher chose to speak out loud and clear in advance of the April 4 election to support four members of the current village council who will be running for election.

Fox Lake has unfinished business, the mayor declared, so that's why he's supporting Trustees Darwin Follman, Alberta Meyer, Jim Thillen and Greg Murrey.

Key aide—Even though he's been ticketed for interim status, Libertyville's Marty Paulson is being regarded as a key figure on the staff of County Clerk Willard Helander.

Paulson, who was an unsuccessful candidate for Libertyville Twp. assessor in 1993, will be working for Helander on office finances and operations of the tax extension and redemption departments. Paulson has loads of credentials. Speculation over Helander's aides was part of campaign debate last fall when she broke the Democrats' record of 24 years controlling the clerk's office.

Edgar backers—Voters in the HeatherRidge subdivision of Gurnee followed the state trend and supported the re-election of Gov. Jim Edgar even more than at the county levels. The subdivision has two precincts, 269 and 270. Edgar and Lt. Gov. Robert Kustra won 282 votes in Precinct 269 and did even better in precinct 270, with 388 votes or 78.54 percent.

Severns

The county wide percentage was Edgar-Kustra 73.46 to 24.86 for Dawn Clark Netsch and Penny Severns. According to figures in the subdivision's newsletter, there were 118 straight GOP ballots cast to 30 Democrat ballots cast in precinct 269 and 164-14 in precinct 270. There were no Libertarian Party votes cast. Something to think about for the Gov. during the heady inauguration and state-of-the-state time.

Burgers better than building for news—When builder Jeffrey J. Pickus of the Fox River Shores fame stated his opinion on the so called Island Lake "building moratorium," he laughed. Pickus said the village never formally sent his company Pickus Construction and Equipment Company, Inc. of Waukegan, "anything on that." Pickus explained it wouldn't matter right now, because no one is building in these frigid temperatures. He took a curve ball to another issue about the new McDonald's which will be open this year. The famous fast food burger joint is to be built in front of a planned strip mall, which will be constructed by Pickus, on Rte. 176. "They're (McDonald's) going to open up this year. Now that's news!" stated Pickus.

Baseball trade—In what turned out to be an even baseball-like trade, Libertyville and Wauconda swapped park heads. Randy Reopelle came aboard as the new director of parks and recreation in Libertyville after serving as the park director for the Wauconda Park District. Ron Lorenzo, on the other hand, was named the new park director of the Wauconda Park District after serving as the director of parks and recreation in Libertyville. Both said they liked the challenges their new positions offered.

What's wrong with the League of Women Voters?—That's the question activist Jack Martin of Libertyville is asking after the LWV opposed the tax freeze for senior citizens and is now urging members to oppose the constitutional amendment to require a balanced federal budget. Martin believes the once responsible and civic minded organization whose goal was to inform voters on public issues is now becoming an advocate for more liberal tax and spend programs. He is calling for the LWV to register with the State and County Boards of Elections as a political action committee.

Martin

Restoring the American Dream—Cong. Phil Crane (R- 8th Dist.) has introduced the "American Dream Restoration Act," one of the ten bills that make up the Republican Contract with America. He is the principal sponsor of the legislation which should eliminate "the marriage penalty."

Getting to know you—O'Kelly, O'Reilly—those Irish names all sound alike. New County Board member Diana O'Kelly had to remind County Board Chairman Robert Depke that her last name was "O'Kelly" when she wanted to second a motion at the first meeting of the county commissioners. Possibly thinking of former County Board member Roberta "Bobble" O'Reilly, Depke had to pause for a moment before recognizing O'Kelly and said, "I was going to say O'Reilly again." Diana cordially reminded the chairman that she was indeed "O'Kelly."

LPI established party—The Illinois State Board of Elections confirmed the Libertarian Party of Illinois is now an established political party in the state as result of the November 1994 general election. This marks the first time since the general election of 1986 that Illinois has had three statewide established parties. The Libertarian Party is America's third largest political party.

Why is the State Librarian littering our highways?—Secretary of State George Walberg

Walberg

Ryan has a campaign sign along Midlothian Road one-eighth of a mile east of Rtes. 60/83, two months following the election. Democratic losers Al Hofeld and Robert Walberg have signs tacked onto posts at the Hofeld intersection of Midlothian and Rtes. 60/83 as well. Isn't enough to see these signs for six months leading up to election? Kudos to those campaigns and their workers who remove signs promptly. By the way, the Richard Jablonski for sheriff sign is still in place on Rte. 176 just west of the Rte. 41 intersection.

Families first—As one of the first orders of business for the new year, County Board Chairman Robert Depke proclaimed 1995 as the "Year of the Family." Led by Eleanor Murkey, an associate dean at the College of Lake County, and Dr. M. Jeanne Cotton, who promotes youth and family development at Trinity Universal Center, a special committee will be developing a series of programs emphasizing the family unit. "If we're going to survive as a nation, we have to survive as a family first," said Murkey.

If he is fortunate enough to find one of these family members, Coughlin said he would "definitely want to travel to them." Then once face to face, he wants to say how much he loves Doc for giving his own life for his, and to find out more about the medic he only briefly knew.

For many years, Coughlin battled alcohol abuse, and post-traumatic stress accompanied by much guilt for being in the war. Now on his way to complete emotional healing, "I'm on the other side of guilt," he said.

Meeting with Eastham's relatives would mean to put to rest a page of his life that has remained open for so long.

Coughlin knows very little about Eastham, except for the fact he may have had a sister, and he was engaged to be married while in the service.

Grant High School explained Eastman may have also been known, or related to a family with the name "Alban."

Their last known address was Rte. 2 Box 478 in either Ingleside or Fox Lake.

—LIFE'S A BEAR—

DONNA ABEAR

Clearing up parenthood myths

A recent Oprah show was a follow-up on the subject of teenage girls and boys who wanted to have babies (and were pregnant or seriously practicing to get that way). Actually, what shocked me the most was that these girls, some of whom were as young as 14, had appeared on television in the first place, publicly announcing their intentions to get pregnant by their boyfriends.

Call me old-fashioned (or just old), but when I was a teenager, my parents made it quite clear that if I managed to get myself pregnant, I would be sent to a home for wayward girls. This home for wayward girls, they explained, was a place run by a woman resembling Lizzie Borden where I would be served bread and water for nine months, after which they would provide me with a luxurious cardboard box and blankets to give birth in. To this day, my mother still does not know I have given birth to four children. She thinks they're adopted.

Obviously, things have changed. Somewhere out there, parents are now telling their daughters that they shouldn't get pregnant but, if they do, there's always Oprah. Or Geraldo, or Jenny or whoever. I don't think there is a teenager around who knows the meaning of the word "wayward" anymore. Actually, I checked on the definition myself, just for this column. It means "unruly" or "disobedient." Hmm. And all these years I thought it meant "pregnant." No wonder my husband looked at me funny whenever the little test tube turned blue and I said, "Oh, no—I'm wayward again."

Getting back to the Oprah show, she brought on these teenagers (who had since become parents) to get their opinions on whether having babies was all they had hoped for. Surprisingly(?) enough, all of them said that being a parent was nothing like they'd hoped for. It was hard work. (Imagine that!)

Now, I have the utmost respect for Oprah. Like the fact that she calls her company Harpo. You know—Oprah spelled backwards? That's really cool. I respect her for that. But let's face it—being the mother of several Golden Retrievers does not mean that Oprah can assist these kids too much in the way of advice. So, having had a little experience in this area myself, boys and girls, I am here to add a lesson or two you may not have heard on the Oprah show. Let's take a moment to debunk a few common myths about having babies:

1. Natural Childbirth is "A beautiful, painless experience"

Ha! Ha, ha, ha, ha, ha!

2. Babies are cute and cuddly. That's only half true. Yes, babies are cute—at least your own. While you may think your Aunt Judy's baby looks exactly like that large slug from the Star Wars series, Jabba the Hut, your own baby will appear to you to be the most beautiful child in all creation. At least till you bring him home from the hospital. And yes, babies are also cuddly. In fact, they will let you cuddle them for hours on end. And the moment you put them down, they will begin to scream. So you will pick him back up. At this point, your baby is slightly less cute and your arms are permanently cramped in the cuddle position. This cuddle, put to bed, scream, and pick up phase continues for several more hours. By 2 a.m. your baby is no longer cute and cuddly at all. In fact, you begin to wonder if perhaps they switched the babies at the hospital. That red-faced thing emitting the piercing screams from his bassinet must surely have belonged to someone named Rosemary.

3. Fathers in the '90s share the childcare duties equally: Ha! Ha, ha, ha, ha!

I hope I've cleared up a few things for you teenagers out there. If not, let me know. My mother is waiting by the phone.

Cooking by the Book Desserts with style

"Spago Desserts" is a tempting collection of recipes compiled by Mary Bergin and Judy Gethers from the New York restaurant.

Written in plain English, the book takes the traditional and contemporary recipes for pies (their version of pumpkin with cranberry marmalade is outstanding!) and tarts, cheesecakes, brownies and frozen treats. The authors use a building-block approach to their art: from the basic chocolate chiffon cake, one can work up to a simple layer cake, an Austrian chocolate cake and a jazzy Opera Cake.

Basic ingredients and equipment are clearly specified, and there's even a brief listing of mail order sources for hard-to-find items.

Orange poppy seed loaf

3 cups all-purpose flour

1 tsp. salt

1/2 tsp. baking powder

1/2 tsp. baking soda

8 oz. unsalted butter, room temperature, cut into small pieces

2 cups granulated sugar

1 Tbl. orange zest

4 eggs

2 Tbls. fresh orange juice

1 cup buttermilk

1 cup poppy seeds

Position rack in center of oven and preheat to 350 degrees. Butter, or coat well with vegetable spray, both loaf pans. Dust with flour, tapping out any excess. Set aside.

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder and baking soda. Set aside.

In a large bowl of an electric mixer, using the paddle or beaters, on medium speed, soften the butter. Gradually pour in the sugar, add orange zest and continue to beat until fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time and the orange juice and beat until well combined.

Alternate adding the flour mixture and buttermilk, starting and ending with the flour mixture (3 additions of flour and 2 of buttermilk). With the last addition of flour, add poppy seeds and beat just until incorporated. Divide batter and scrape into prepared pans. The batter should reach about 2/3 up the sides. Bake until tops are golden brown and a skewer, gently poked into the center of cake, comes out clean, about 1 hour. Cool on rack. To remove from pan, run a knife around inside of the pan and invert onto a flat surface, then invert again onto a serving plate.

To serve, serve as is, or dust with confectioners' sugar and cut into slices.—by TOM WITOM

Lakeland
NewspapersCruises For The Sports Enthusiast

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

The unbelievable popularity of cruising as a vacation choice should be enough to persuade anyone into giving it a try.

However, if you still need some coaxing, and are a sports fan, how about this.

Norwegian Cruise Lines (NCL) offers a series of sports theme cruises ranging anywhere from football to Pro-Beach Volleyball.

You'll not only sail with well-known pros in that sport, but onboard activities will be centered around the sports theme of that cruise.

For example, on the Pro-Am Golf cruise, you'll meet golf legends like Billy Casper and Hall of Famer Bruce Crampton and attend on-board clinics put on by these golf greats.

Then, after you've honed your game on-board, you'll get the chance to golf alongside the Pros on breathtakingly beautiful courses on tropical islands like Antigua, Barbados, St. Maarten and St. Thomas.

Golf not your game? On NCL's Basketball Cruise, you can try a little one-on-one with some of the top players in the NBA. Past cruises have featured Hall of Famers Elvin Hayes and Oscar Robertson as well as Sam Perkins, and Robert Parish.

You may not want to try getting a pass off against the likes of Richard Dent, but it might be fun playing sports trivia with he and other football greats on the NFL Football Cruise.

If motorsports is your thing, you can speed along at 30 knots with Al Unser, John Andretti, Buddy Baker and other famous auto racers. You may actually be able to boast you beat one of these race legends during the on-deck radio-controlled car races.

Sports are only one of the theme cruises available. Whatever your hobby, there's likely a theme cruise where you can sail with others who share your interests.

Movie Pick

Classic book 'Women' becomes classic movie

When this reviewer was a little girl, the reading of Louisa May Alcott's "Little Women," was as much a part of a girl's growing to womanhood as the love of dolls, or her first prom.

So when the first two film adaptations came out, one in 1933 starring Katherine Hepburn as Jo, and one 20 years later with America's sweetheart of the 1950s, June Allison, as Jo and Elizabeth Taylor as Amy, every little girl and her mother went to see one of their favorite books come to life despite the fact that they were just a touch better than mediocre films.

Now a 1990's version of this Civil War drama has been released. Contrary to the usual, here we have a sequel that is better than its predecessors.

Most of this is due to the the newness of the story, since the majority of moviegoers weren't alive or else were too young to remember the book and the first two pictures.

"Little Women" is another bit of proof that a movie rated PG can be enjoyable.

The story of of a mother trying to raise her four daughters during the strife and poverty of the Civil War is well known by those over 35, but it's likely to be a whole new tale for this younger generation.

Winona Ryder is the best Jo yet and many are touting her's as an Academy Award performance. There have also been AA rumblings for Susan Sarandon's Marmee, but this reviewer found her performance to be a good one, but not an award winning one.

Christian Bale's Laurie was adequate, but we would have liked a little more virility ala a Christian Slater type better. We did like Gabriel Byrne's professor more than Rosanno Brazzi's, who played Allyson's love interest.

Although author Alcott was not know for being a suffragette, especially this version of "Women" turns out to be perfect for the feminist movement, showing how women had a real glass ceiling years ago.

This is a movie for the entire family and the boys might be pleasantly surprised if they went along simply because it's an enjoyable vehicle for teaching moral turpitude and showing male chauvinism as it was during Lincoln's life.

As good as it was, there were draggy parts, and at times we of the age abundance, found it hard to identify with average people who treasured an orange, so we gave it a 4.5 out of five star rating.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Gerry Traxler's Choral Dynamics names winning soloists, ensembles

Gerry Traxler's Choral Dynamics has announced the winning soloists and ensembles for their January 21 and 22 show, "Shimmering Golden Tones." These winning performers competed in November, auditioning before ten judges who rated them on vocal skill and showmanship. Soloists from the Libertyville area are Lynn Robison, Kathy Morgan, Peggy Coniff and Charlotte Beutlich; from Mundelein, Wendy Hehn; from Gurnee, Bob and Betty Schildgen; from Northbrook, Julie Cohen; from Lake Zurich, Jeannine Saltman; and area newcomer, Roxanne Bochniak.

Ensembles who won places in the show were perennial comedy favorites Peggy Coniff and Kathy Morgan, the close harmony swing trio of Jeannine Saltman, Peggy Coniff, and Kathy Morgan, and male comedy duo, John Hansen and Roger Tweed. Various chorus members will solo with the chorus in classics "The Lost Chord" and "Spirit Immortal" from Verdi's "Attila." Traxler's show chorus will perform famous numbers from Broadway musicals, hit movies, and popular recorded hits from recent decades, including "Swingin'," "Shepherd Blues" and "God Bless the U.S.A."

The curtain rises both Saturday and Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Libertyville High School Auditorium off Route 176 at Dawes. All chorus members are selling advance tickets, as well as show beneficiaries Augustana Group Home and Zion-Benton Parents' Network, or call 566-9529 to reserve tickets at the advance price, saving $2 off the door admission of $10 for adults and $8 for children under 12 or seniors over 64. The adult mixed chorus produces two shows annually to benefit local nonprofit groups, and entertaining audiences from Chicago's north suburbs to the Wisconsin border. This is their 27th year.

UW-Parkside features annual print show

Approximately 120 small prints will be featured at the University of Wisconsin-Parkside Jan. 15 through Feb. 25. The show will be held in UW-Parkside's Communication Arts Gallery and features the work of 108 artists from across the United States.

A free, public reception will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 16 in the gallery, located at the southwest corner of the main campus complex. Gallery hours are 1 to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 7 to 10 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The exhibition will feature a range of traditional and experimental print methods from artists representing 41 states. Prints from the show were selected from nearly 1,000 entries. Garo Z. Antreasian, artist, teacher, printmaker and professor emeritus of art at New Mexico Univ., Albuquerque, juried the show.

The exhibition, sponsored by the UW-Parkside Art Dept., is coordinated by Douglas DeVinny, professor and chair of the art department.

Faro log home built for openness and comfort

When you walk into the Faro home situated on five acres in rural Wadsworth, you immediately feel at home. Given the comfortable, lived-in look of the home, it's hard to believe that the Faros moved in as recently as July, 1994. Walter and Ingrid Faro are proud of the fact that they have created such a lived-in feeling as a result of their input in the customized design of their log home. In addition to their mixture of antique and modern furnishings,

Both Walter and Ingrid Faro praised Paul and John Idstein, sons of Jack Idstein, a builder of log homes whose office is situated in Grayslake. "Paul and John practically did all the work themselves," said Walter, "and they did a wonderful job. We couldn't be happier with the results." The Faros also had nothing but great words to say about Collins Fireplace and Patio, who did all the stonework, along with the home's two fireplaces, which burn both gas and wood.

Once inside the Faro home, you're greeted by an abundance of "outdoorsy" decorations, including a rather large moose flanked by Swedish and Romanian flags hanging on the wall overlooking the living area that Walter said he actually hunted and stalked - with his checkbook. The living area, including customized skylights, is also decorated with a number of antique and modern furnishings mixed together, including a comfortable leather couch, and an actual wooden chair taken from a Viking vessel. There's also a lamp from Sweden (Ingrid's place of birth) that Ingrid says is actually the belly of a moose standing atop a horn. What would normally have been the dining area is a billiard area, complete with a pool table, a replica of a 1900s antique.

Surrounding that is a German antique hutch and a refinished Hoosier with an antique wine barrel perched on top. Throughout the home, oriental throw rugs, of which some are antiques, accent the wooden floor. On the opposite side of "Bullwinkle", as Walter likes to call it, and situated above the fireplace, Walter has displayed his prized antique gun collection.

The Faros, who are the owners of Combined Employers Association and Insurance Consulting Group in Gurnee, married in 1990 and brought together the items they have collected throughout their previous, numerous travels. Walter is a Vietnam veteran and proudly displays his medals and some remembrances of that period in his life in his office. Ingrid studied for her master's degree in Israel, and the items she collected are also displayed in Walter's office. Besides being well-traveled, the Faros are avid antique hunters, and have gotten many of the home's furnishings from Rebecca Anne's Worldwide Antiques and Furniture in Prairie View. Ingrid said they both love the furniture there, which is brought over from Europe.

The Faros explained that they wanted a log home specifically because they wanted a nice, solid home. "Like a fortress," said Walter. Ingrid fancies their home as more of a "retreat." By chance, they happened to be traveling in Grayslake and saw a sign advertising Idstein's log homes, and immediately went home and called. They viewed a video on log homes, and that was all it took. Walter and Ingrid said that, although building a home "is an experience we don't wish on anyone," Paul and John Idstein allowed them to provide a great deal of input in the design of their home. Ingrid even got to design her own kitchen, an opportunity most women would love to have. The kitchen features beautiful wood cabinets, fashioned by Paul Idstein, and a built-in wood pantry with pull out shelves. The modern conveniences are cleverly hidden under the wooden counter accented with a forest-green colored countertop.

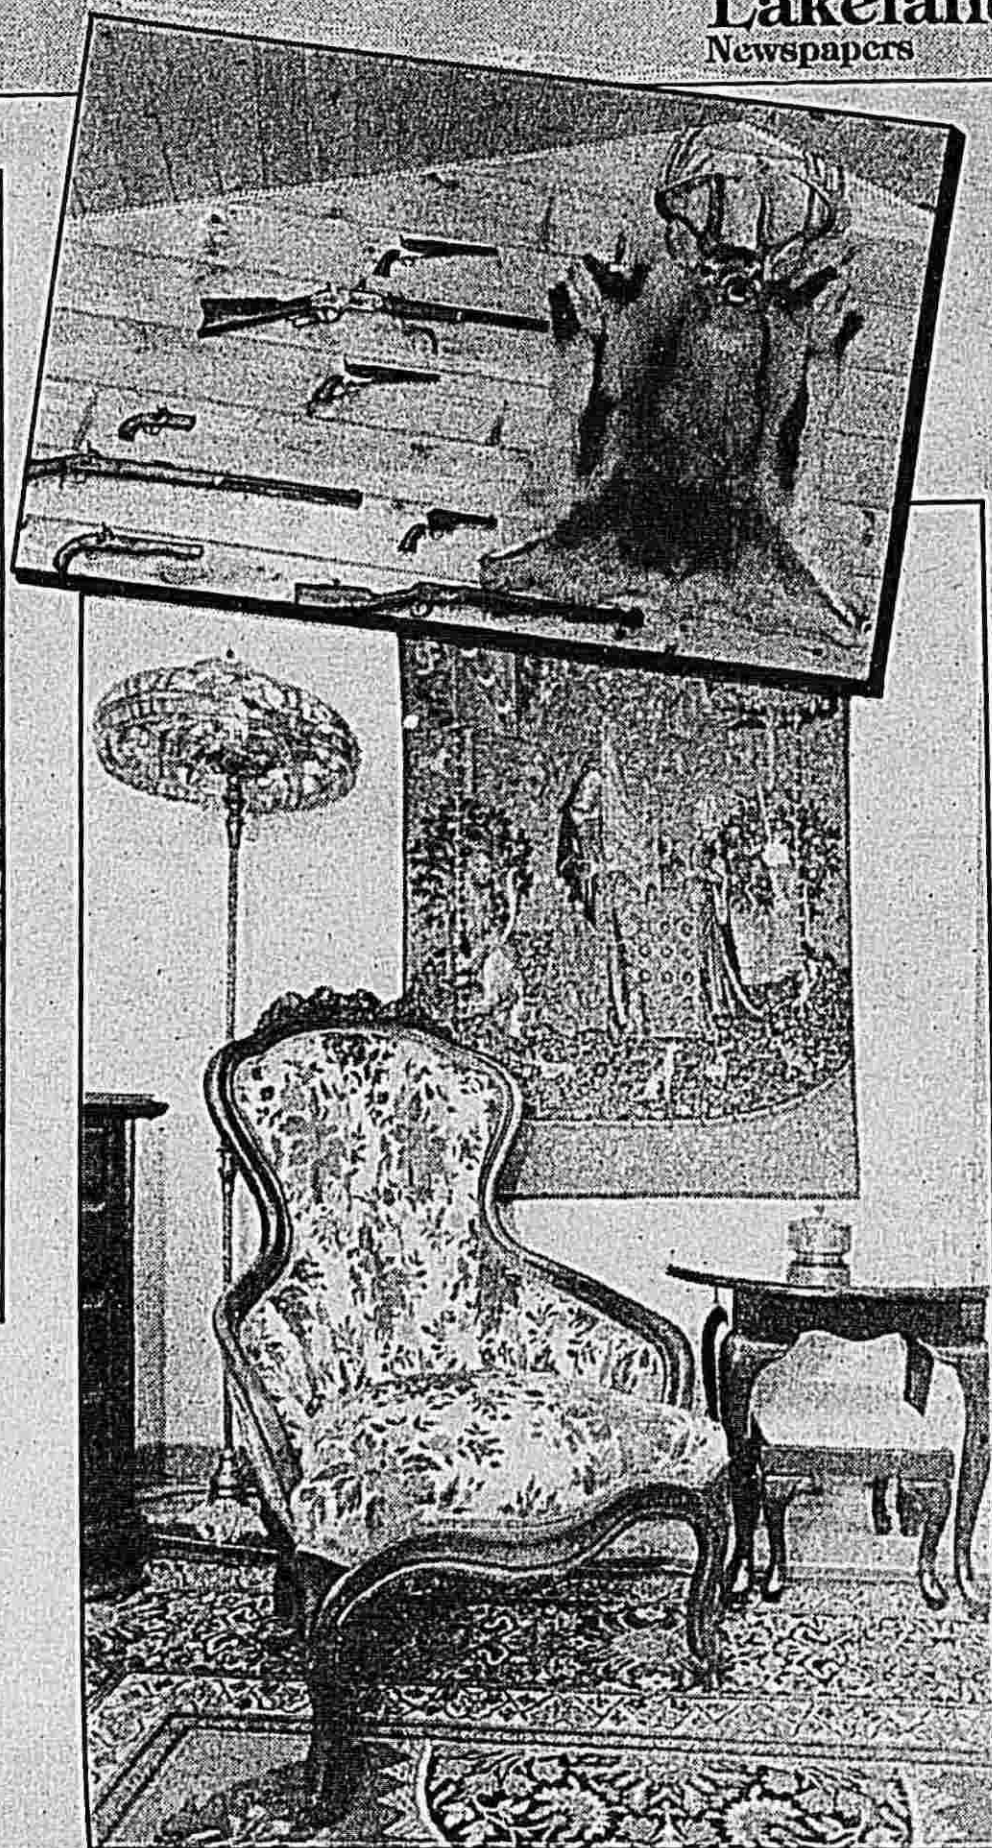

The master bedroom is decorated in a comfortable, simple style, and is accented with a great deal of Ingrid's great-grandmother's and mother's things, along with European furniture. The master bath can be found down a short, narrow hallway and past the walk-in closet. The bathroom's unique features include a two-person sauna and a 100-gallon jet tub with a shower. The guest bedroom features an authentic Tiffany lamp on the ceiling. In

At the end of the hall you'll find Walter Jr.'s room, perfect for a two-and-a-half year old. Sitting atop the bunk bed is a huge stuffed gorilla named Larry, who was found See LOG HOME page B15

IT RUNS ON TWO SPEEDS, BUT YOUR GAS BILLS WILL STAY ON 'LO.'

Most gas furnaces have one speed. High.

Trane's XV 80, on the other hand, has a two-stage gas valve and a multi-speed blower. Under most conditions it runs at low speed, maintaining a delightfully even level of warmth in your home. At either speed it's remarkably quiet.

And, with over 80% efficiency, extremely economical.

Now how can you turn down a furnace like that?

In the window of a luggage store when the Faros decided to give him a home. Ingrid said, "You should have seen the stares we got pushing Walter Jr. with Larry's arms wrapped around him through Gurnee Mills!"

The only thing left to do is landscaping, said Walter and Ingrid. There are many possibilities for that, and Ingrid has already made plans to start in March. Since the house sits 300 feet from the road, Ingrid says it will be perfect to line the driveway with fir trees, in addition to evergreens and numerous bulbs surrounding the home's large wooden deck.

After the stress and hard work of building a home, the Faros can now relax and bask in the feeling their comfortable home provides for their family.

Bring the outdoors indoors with Nanik Naturals blinds

Jane Nemke

Lake County residents yearning to get back to nature in the nineties are among the first in the nation to be introduced to Nanik Naturals, a distinctive new look in two-inch width wood window blinds. Nanik Naturals highlight the natural beauty of real basswood knots, cross grains and mineral marks. They're custom-made in Wausau, Wisconsin at Nanik, one of the country's leading manufacturers of wood blinds. Lake County was selected as a national test market for Nanik Naturals because company officials felt many people who live here have a special appreciation for the outdoors, according to Jane Nemke, business development director at Nanik.

*Lake County residents have made a lifestyle choice to live in a more relaxed, natural setting outside the city," said Nemke. "We believe that's the same choice people make when they choose to purchase Nanik Naturals. This type of blind is for people who appreciate nature and find comfort in surrounding themselves with the true, natural beauty of wood."

To ensure quality, the company controls all phases of production. Nanik employees personally select the basswood used to create Nanik Naturals from northern hardwood forests, paying particular attention to the quality of the wood to ensure stability and to prevent the possibility of warping. The basswood is then cut into slats to match the precise window measurements supplied by the customer. Nanik Naturals can be created for any type of windows regardless of their size or shape.

The next step is finishing. Nanik Naturals, like other Nanik wood blinds, can be matched to any wood stain the customer desires. Of course, with Nanik Naturals, light wood stains, such as fruitwood, are recommended to bring out the natural features of the beautiful knots and delicate cross grain patterns that make Nanik Naturals unique.

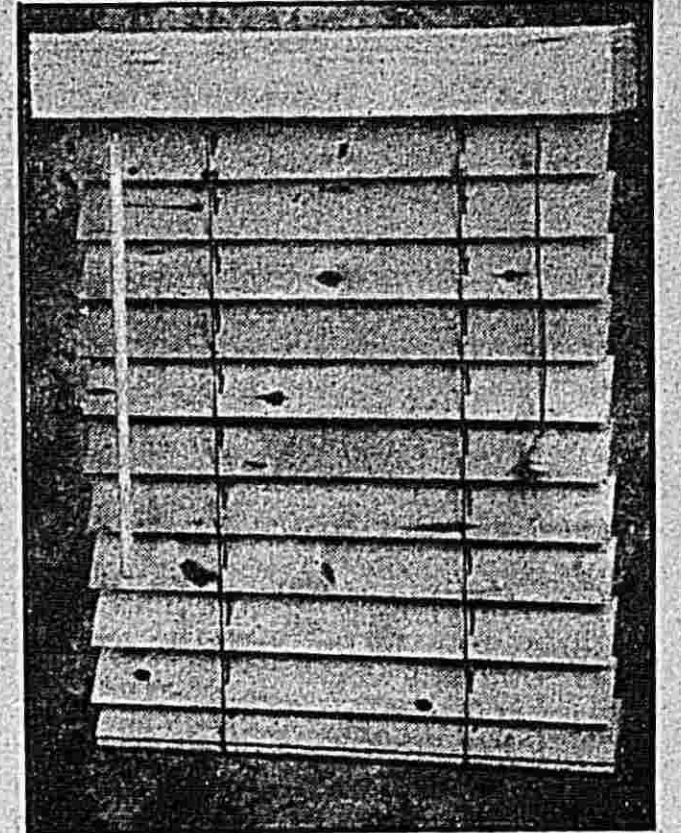

Unlike many competitors, Nanik finishes its wood slats after fabrication. This procedure ensures that the ends of the slats and routes holes (slots in the wood slats through which operational cords are strung) are completely sealed preventing moisture from penetrating the surface.

After finishing, the wood slats are artistically by hand to maximize the visual appeal of each blind. The result of this custom arrangement of natural knots, cross-grained patterns and mineral marks is that no two Nanik Naturals look exactly the same.

An extruded aluminum headrail, unique to Nanik, is designed to support the weight of the wood. And, a number of options including wand tilt or cord tilt controls, 17 different cloth tapes and 23 decorative trims are available to help customers and interior designers enhance any decorating style or goals they have in mind.

Because Nanik controls the entire production process, Nanik Naturals offers a limited lifetime warranty on the slats, headrail and components.

—DECORATING DIMENSIONS

New Year's resolutions that can be kept for years

This year, instead of making the same old new year's resolution of losing 10 pounds or going to the health club three times a week, resolve to give your interiors a new year's face lift! This is a resolution you will be pleased you kept for years to come.

You don't have to give your entire home a drastic overhaul. Just a little updating is all it takes to ring in the new year right. A new sofa in the living room can bring new life to an old room. Or maybe you are not ready to replace the sofa, but would somehow like to give it a new look. Throw pillows will do the trick. Custom cover them in coordinating fabrics. If you would like different patterns for summer and winter, cover one side of the pillows in a summery color and the opposite side in a more wintry hue. You can simply flip them over with the seasons!

When was the last time you thought about the walls of the room? A simple change of wall color makes a marked improvement upon a room. Or introduce a pattern to make your walls take on more of starring role.

As a rule of thumb, low ceilings should be painted a light shade to encourage a sense of height, while high ceilings can carry the deeper colors if your desire is to visually bring down the ceiling height.

Let's turn to the windows. Are you looking through, heavily draped window treatments that make you feel like something is overdue for a dusting? If so, it's time-out with the old and in with the new. Many of today's stylish window treatment designs are refreshingly light. They say, "Look through me, not at me!"

The easiest way to accomplish a new year's facelift is with accessorizing. Sorry, but it's time to take down all the holiday trimmings. This time, rather than leave your home cold and empty, fill it with treasured collections, groupings of old family photos, and perhaps a colorful dried flower arrangement or two. Be sure you have enough lighting; it can chase away the winter doldrums by adding both visual interest as well as light. Add greenery to your home to give your house a summertime feeling throughout those dreary months of January and February.

If you don't have a green thumb, purchase a few quality silk plants that will bring life to your interiors—no fertilizer required!

It's easy to give your home a new year's facelift. From furniture and lighting to the simple detail of new accessories, there are countless ways to update your home's look without spending a bundle. This will be one new year's resolution you will thank yourself for keeping.

Masculine romantic

If you and your spouse are having trouble agreeing on a master bedroom decor, you are not alone. Perhaps you want a room alive with lush garden prints while your spouse craves rich plaids or paisleys—so what do you do? Most men simply cannot. In their masculine heart of hearts, admit that they love the flowery look in their bedroom. And many women prefer that masculine motifs remain in the study or the game room.

There are two theories about settling this "war of the roses." One is that many men negate the floral theme without even realizing what it would look like; they see a flowery sample and automatically disallow it. If you think this is the case, show your spouse pictures of rooms that have been decorated using florals. Often, the perspective of a picture where you can see the overall effect convinces a man that it's not as bad as he thought.

The other theory is compromise. There are countless fabrics, wallcoverings, patterns, and accessories on the market that cater to a more masculine romantic. Ask yourselves the following questions:

•What patterns can the two of you agree on? Stripes, plaids, geometric patterns, paisleys, etc?

•What colors can you agree on?

Blue, hunter, rose, black and white, or something else?

•What furniture styles do you both like? Traditional, transitional, modern, Victorian, eclectic, country?

Once you find a common ground, then it's easier to make a decision. Perhaps you can agree on a floral print in richer, "masculine" colors the husband will like, or maybe there is a bold strip featuring colors the wife loves. A bed that sports a multitude of pillows will give your room that romantic look as well as the necessary comfort, no matter what the style.

Of course, you could call a decorator for an in-home consultation. This is a convenient route to take when both you and your spouse are busy with work, family and social engagements. The decorator you choose should have samples from which you can choose right in the comfort and lighting of your own home. This service save you time and needless aggravation.

However you decide on the master bedroom decorating dilemma, remember that it is a room in which you will relax for many years. Life can be exhausting at times, and it is important that both you and your spouse find peace and relaxation in your bedroom.

Center islands spark new look for kitchens

Breakfast nooks, center islands becoming more popular in today's kitchen designs.

Many homeowners enjoy time in the kitchen preparing large meals for family gatherings. Knowing this, new-home builders concentrate on kitchen designs.

"Kitchens are always a hot button in luxury homes," said David A. Mayes, general manager of T.I. Homes, which is building 90 custom residences at The Woods of Ivanhoe Club near Mundelein. Homes typically have three to five bedrooms, two to 3-1/2 baths, and feature 2,400 to 4,000 square feet of living space. Current base prices range from $399,000 to $575,000.

Mayes said today's buyers are looking for a blend of comfort and convenience in the kitchen.

"The space must be functional, allow for easy traffic flow, and include gourmet conveniences," he said. "But at the same time, the room should be bright and cheery."

A center island one of the most sought-after features in luxury homes.

"We show the island with a sink, but a lot of our customers request ones with cooktops or indoor grills, as well," said Mayes. "We've even designed an island with a buffet-type warming top so homeowners can serve off. If when they entertain."

According to Mayes, the center island also helps direct traffic flow because it is positioned only one or two steps from all major appliances and the sink.

In addition to carefully laying out counter and work space, Mayes works with buyers to ensure their storage needs are met with plenty of cabinetry or pantries.

"Large walk-in pantries, relics of the turn-of-the-century, are making a comeback. Our customers want lots of shelves and easy access to everything," said Mayes.

"A few of our customers have gone as far as installing large-scale cooking centers with commercial-size stoves and huge sub-zero refrigerators," he said. "This reflects a trend toward large gatherings and dinner parties."

As a result, many homeowners prefer kitchens that open directly into casual living zones.

"Breakfast nooks adjoining kitchens are probably the most common concept we've seen in today's designs," said Mayes. "They often give kitchens their character because they can be octagonal shaped or set in a bay."

Breakfast areas also tend to feature lots of glass, including floor-to-ceiling windows or sliding glass doors, to bring the outdoors in, said Mayes.

Several tips on how to reclaim space when selling homes

If you're selling your house, make sure that all of the space is put on display, advises Wilbur G. Luther, Balrd and Warner senior vice president.

•Long before allowing any broker open houses, go through the stuff and give away/throw away clothes, games and toys, appliances and other items you no longer use. This not only puts a more spacious perspective on your house for the buyer but ultimately saves you money on by-the-box moving costs.

•Make sure that your home's "curb appeal" is a good lure to looking further. Survey the yard and home as though you were the buyer. Put away tools and toys, rake leaves, trim shrubs and sweep the porch.

•Keep the house cozy but not cluttered or, "lived-in without being messy."

Take care of minor repairs, such as a dripping faucet, doors that stick or chipped paint. Then, to highlight the neatness and cleanliness, install high-wattage bulbs in lamps and fixtures to make rooms more cheery and bright.

•If you are at home when a broker calls with a prospect, be friendly and then excuse yourself; turn off TVs and stereos, and take your family and pets for a walk. Let the broker conduct the home tour and field all questions.

Also, most prospective buyers want to look in all the closets and rooms, including bedrooms and bathrooms.

•Make sure that the kitchen is the clean and cheery. The range and other appliances should be spotless, and that all dishes and trash are out of sight.

Get comfort with whole house humidifiers

Over the past 40 years, millions of Americans who rely on humidifiers to take the dryness out of wintertime air have discovered that a whole house humidifier can make proper humidity easy and trouble free.

To maintain a comfortable level of humidity in a typical home, a humidifier should be able to put out as much as 12 gallons a day. That's a task most whole house humidifiers can handle with ease. In contrast, even the largest tabletop humidifier holds only three gallons, and most hold considerably less. To get that much humidity from a portable, you would have to spend a lot of time carrying water.

There's no mystery about why humidifiers are popular. During the heating season, they help reduce annoying static electric shocks and protect wood furniture and paneling, fabrics and even computers from damage caused by excessively dry air.

More importantly, proper humidification can improve your health and comfort. It can make you feel warmer even with the thermostat set at a lower temperature. Many doctors say it helps protect the respiratory system, aiding the body's defenses against viruses and air pollution. The moisture a humidifier supplies can help cold-sufferers feel better by reducing dryness and irritation in the nose and throat and can alleviate symptoms of dry skin attributable to excessive dryness. A whole house humidifier provides these benefits automatically.

Although many whole house humidifiers are designed to work with forced air heating systems, models are available for all types of heat, including steam, hot water and electric. Whole house humidifiers are installed by qualified heating and cooling contractors. Here are some questions to ask your contractor before deciding on a humidifier for your home.

- How does the humidifier create humidified air? Evaporative type humidifiers are best because they do not distribute white dust or other airborne contaminants.

- Does it have a flow-through drain, or is there a reservoir? A flow-through drain system flushes away mineral scale so maintenance is easier.

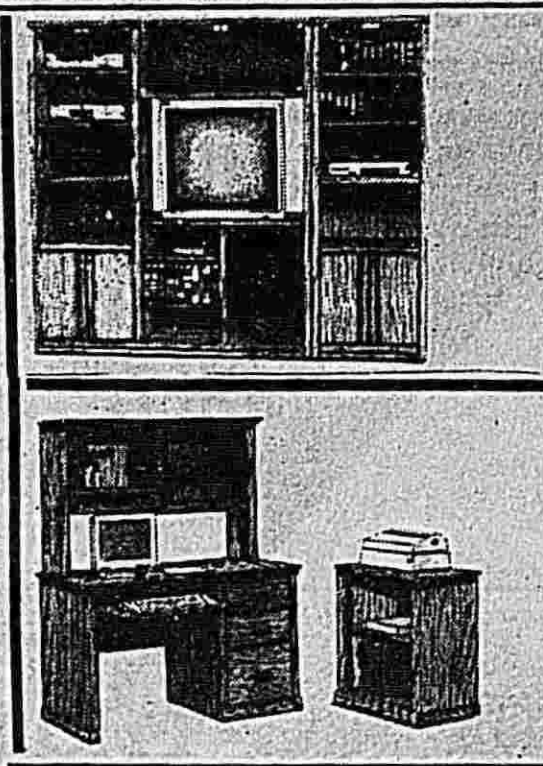

- How often does it need maintenance? The best ones only need to have a simple evaporative element replaced once a year.

- How good is the humidistat? A good humidistat is essential to provide a measured amount of humidity throughout the whole house. A recent report by Consumer Reports magazine recommended the Aprilaire® Model 55.

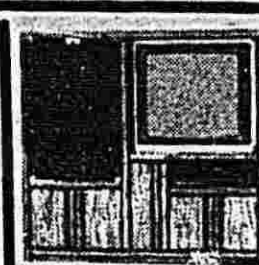

To learn more about how to maintain a comfortable level of humidity in your home, call the Consumer Information Department at Research Products Corporation at 1-800-545-2219. Ask for the free brochure "Humidification Facts."

Antioch Golf Club under new management

What was known as Hogan's Restaurant at the Antioch Golf Course is now going by the name of Antioch Golf Club under the management of Don Helmig, who has successfully been in the restaurant business since 1959.

Helmig notes that the Friday Fish Fry and Sunday Brunch are sure to become popular with patrons, along with dishes such as BBQ ribs, prime rib, and all-you-can-eat buffets, featuring specials that change weekly. At Antioch Golf Club, seniors get a 10 percent discount on their food bill during restaurant hours on Friday and Saturday, and also during Sunday Brunch.

Planning a wedding, conference, meeting, luncheon, shower, golf outing, or other special event? Come on out and check the newly remodeled banquet facilities. Antioch Golf Club has banquet facilities with a party package just for you.

Antioch Golf Club has three beautiful rooms to choose from starting at $19.95 per person, which includes dinner and cocktails. But, the choices don't end there. Antioch Golf Club offers a delightful dining experience with a variety of fine menu selections to suit anyone's taste.

Packages are available for parties from 10 to 300 people. Antioch Golf Club has a full catering service and can accommodate outdoor ceremonies. Now is the time to start making your reservations. For more information regarding the banquet facilities call 395-4800.

The restaurant menu is reasonably priced for the entire family. On Friday and Saturday nights, try the all-you-can-eat pasta bar from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. The Friday Fish Fry is another favorite at Antioch Golf Club.

If beef is on your menu, Antioch Golf Club has the steak for you. The filet is broiled to your liking, garnished with mushroom caps. You can also choose a huge porterhouse steak for the hearty appetite. Chef Jeff Roewer recommends his house specials which include peppercorn steak, sunset pasta, and peppered salmon. The veal marsala, chicken vesuvio, and the barbecue ribs are also a big hit at Antioch Golf Club.

On Sundays, the champagne brunch is out-of-this-world. Served from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., this veritable feast is only $8.95 for adults and $4.95 for children under 10.

Antioch Golf Club is also offering the Great Dining and Golf Special. For only $24.95, you can purchase up to five greens fees and get five free. Also up to five cart rentals, five dinners, and five brunches and get five free is available with the special card.

Hospital uses new interpreter

ZION—Staff members at Midwestern Regional Medical Center in Zion can now communicate with patients and their families in 140 different languages, thanks to an over-the-phone interpreter service provided by AT&T Language Line Services. Doctors and nurses can now pick up the telephone and reach an interpreter in the matter of moments. In the most dramatic circumstances, this will help save lives; on a day-to-day basis, it represents a significant improvement in the quality of health care services. When they need an interpreter, medical personnel can call Language Line's toll-free 800 number and ask for the language they need. In most cases, an interpreter is available within moments. AT&T interpreters are on duty 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Language Line interpreters can also assist during admission procedures

Unicom continues building

LIBERTYVILLE—The Unicom Corp. announced it will spend $2.845 billion for construction and improvement projects during the next three years for two of its subsidiaries, Unicom Thermal Technologies and ComEd. Unicom Corp. has earmarked $2.75 billion for those dollars to ComEd for its nuclear and fossil generations operations, its transmission and distribution system, and other improvement projects through 1997. The envisioned program for ComEd represents an approximate 12 percent increase compared to the 1994-96 program. Unicom Corp. has committed $95 million over the next three years for its unregulated subsidiary, Unicom Thermal Technologies. Construction of Unicom Thermal's first district cooling facility is projected to be completed by May 1995, and

Farm Bureau in tort reform

GRAYSLAKE—The Illinois Farm Bureau, with 385,000 members, has joined the Illinois Civil Justice League in the effort to reform tort liability laws in Illinois. The Illinois Farm Bureau thus takes its place alongside the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, the Illinois State Medical Society, the Illinois Manufacturers' Assn., the Illinois Business Roundtable, the Management Assn. of Illinois and the National Federation of Independent Business in working to change tort liability laws in Illinois. The members believe the tort system will have to be modified to insure that certain business enterprises and services will continue to exist for farmers and that the economy will thrive in an environment conducive to free enterprise and service to the state's diverse population.

New fitness concept dances pounds away

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

When Debra Lopez was traveling around the country for her singing career, the ultimate dream for she and her manager was to obtain a recording deal. Over the years, as all the miles and singing engagements began to blend into one, the Waukegan native began to realize a record signing would take more than talent and good management—it takes an equal dose of luck too.

Lopez began to think of something she and her manager, Lory Charney, could do that would use their background in music, fitness training, management and a much smaller dose of luck. Now, if her dream comes true for their Gurnee-based business called Dance Pounds Away, her voice may still be heard across the country.

"We've nearly put all of our competitors out of business because we've given the customer something she wants," Lopez said during a break between sessions.

Both women feel they have found a way to take advantage of one simple fact when it comes to women and exercise. Simply put, exercise is boring. What Dance Pounds Away does in an hour session at least three times a week is intended to be quite the opposite.

What the members achieve in return is body toning, a boosted metabolism, burning of fat and calories and staying young.

Since opening in June 1992, the business has seen membership swell to 1,400. That is no small feat considering an intensive marketing study conducted before opening revealed they would need a population base of at least 80,000 to 100,000 people within a five mile radius in order to survive comfortably. That radius would include a large population base all the way to Lake Michigan. To their surprise, 60 percent of their clientele comes directly from the Village of Gurnee.

Lopez and Charney are naturally guarded about most of their trade secrets, but they can talk in broad strokes about why their way of exercise has caused a continual flow through the cash register.

industry how to motivate people and that talent comes through in helping people stay with their goals. Lopez also mixes all the music herself for a cutting edge sound that doesn't get staid. Another part of their research is learning why other aerobic businesses are losing interest or failing altogether.

"Women over 30 don't want to go to a studio and see rock-hard 19-year-old bodies. All of our instructors are over 30. They also don't want to go to a male bodybuilding gym to work out," Lopez said, saying roughly 80 percent of the population is clinically overweight.

To answer those concerns, Dance Pounds Away offers the career woman a bare bones opportunity to come in, dance for an hour surrounded by women of any body type, and leave immediately to return to their busy lives. There are no spacious changing rooms or showers in the 3,400 square-foot building because their typical member between 30 and 60 years of age doesn't require it. Overhead is kept to a minimum to keep fees to a minimum.

Another obstacle with exercising outside the home is daycare. Just because women are more career oriented than they were years ago doesn't mean they have stopped having children.

After nearly 200 requests the first summer in business, Charney said they added a daycare facility on site. The playroom, which has over 800 children registered, is constantly

Fleckman new president of HBALC

Ron Fleckman

The Home Builders Assn. of Lake County (HBALC) has installed Ron Fleckman as its president for 1995. As president of HBALC, Fleckman heads the 17-member HBALC Board of Directors. His year as president will focus on education and community outreach in addition to current issues affecting the home-building industry.

Fleckman is also president of Cyrus Homes, builder of award-winning custom and semi-custom homes in Lake Co. and on the North Shore.

Fleckman was a driving force behind HBALC's enormously successful Marvel House (house in a day) project in 1993 for which, in part, he was recognized as HBALC 1993 Builder of the Year. He served as HBALC vice-president in 1994, having joined the HBALC Board of Directors in 1992 as vice-chairman of the public relations committee. He also serves as a member of the board of directors of the Home Builders Assn. of Greater Chicago, as an alternate director of both the Home Builders Assn. of Illinois and the National Assn. of Home Builders, and of the board of directors of Alternatives Inc., a social service agency for children and young adults. He and his wife and family reside in Evanston.

Computer 'coaches' make house calls

Christmas was great. You just received new CD ROM drives and software programs, but you don't know how to install them or operate the software.

Worse yet, you dread the thought of having to haul all the equipment to a computer store to learn what needs to be done.

Don't worry. Staff members from "Adventure Learning Club" at Hawthorn Mall in Vernon Hills will make house calls. That's right; they are taking their concepts and products to the streets.

"People are enchanted with the concept of multimedia, so they buy CD ROM drives and software but can't figure out how to install it when they get home. That's when our computer coaches get the call," said Beth Kljajic, co-founder of Adventure Learning Club.

The coaches are available for "clinics" with a maximum of three students for $20/hour, one-on-one training (in store) for $30/hour or in-home house calls for $45/hour.

The coaches give instruction and assistance on everything from windows applications, DOS, loading programs, file management and home finance programs to personal productivity and troubleshooting.

Newly opened Adventure Learning Club has been dubbed a 1990s version of a arcade, computer learning center, community center and mall hang-out. Coaches regularly give children and adults hands-on instruction to the latest software and technology. For more information, 680-0880.—by KEVIN HANRAHAN monitored using a team of five fully certified daycare providers. New mothers wanting to get the figure back are pleased because the center welcomes infants. Teens are included as well.

Fitness

The unique fitness concept has already drawn some interest from new entrepreneurs and established ones alike. Workout gyms with failing aerobic centers are interested in buying into Dance Pounds Away so their once-successful women's exercise programs can again become a profit center. Charney says at least one individual is considering opening a franchise in a Lake County location that has a population base of 112,000 inside a three-mile radius, but that person does have a deadline.

"If they don't open a center there, we will," Charney said enthusiastically.

In business terms, the investment to open a franchise for an existing business is relatively small—as little as $12,000. A new business from the ground up is around $50,000. For their fee they get everything they need to get up and running, including marketing studies, site selection, a fully hired staff, and ongoing consulting from Charney and Lopez.

Dance Pounds Away is open Monday through Thursday 6 a.m. to 8 p.m., Friday 6 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., Saturday 8 a.m. to noon, and Sunday 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. The phone number is 662-2772.

Club

A deer in the woods was painted on his cup. Another woman raises parrots. Her mug was adorned with a colorful parrot.

When your card is punched completely, every 16th breakfast is on the house. Every 30th member with their card punched gets to choose from a free breakfast, lunch or dinner from a basket of cards.

Elana said the new club is so popular, over 60 members already belong to it.

Nothing but homemade gravies, sauces and soups are served at Elana's. Also, only low-calorie canola oil is used in the fryer and grill.

The restaurant is a family business. Elana has 20-years of restaurant experience and has done everything from waitressing to managing.

Her husband, Dean is "wonderful," she said. He not only helps out at the restaurant, but he watches their four children while Elana works, besides holding down his full-time job.

Her dad, Jim Chagdes also waiters and runs the cash register, while her sister, Deb waitresses and helps with cooking.

Elana's is open every day, from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m., except for Sunday and Monday, when it closes at 2 p.m.

INVESTMENT TRENDS

Noah A. Seldenberg,

Investment Representative of Edward D. Jones & Co.

Select mutual funds with successful management

You've probably heard the old saying that the three most important considerations when investing in real estate are "location, location, location." There are also three essentials in selecting mutual funds: management, management, management.

All mutual funds have access to the same securities. What distinguishes the outstanding mutual funds from the mediocre is how their managers select securities and operate the business.

The December 1993 issue of Institutional Investor featured the 10 top money management companies as determined by a survey of U.S. companies with more than $500 million in market capitalization and at least 70 percent institutional ownership. The funds on the list were not the "hottest" funds, but rather those whose managers are the most dependable, consistent and successful in investing their shareholders' money. This is the way professionals select money managers, and it makes sense for individual investors, too.

With a little homework, you too can select mutual funds like a professional. All you need to do is examine a couple of statistical listings that can be found at your public library or investment representative's office. The first is a listing of mutual funds from Lipper Analytical Services. The second is the Standard & Poor's 500 Index (S&P 500), a group of 500 stocks that is one of the most respected and widely used indicators of stock market performance.

Assume you want to invest in a growth-and-income fund. As your "yardstick," use the five-year average annual return of the S&P 500, which is 14.5 percent for the period 1989-93. Now compare that to Lipper's mutual fund listing. The report lists 5,500 mutual funds currently available, 326 of which are growth-and-income. Of these 326, only 42 outperformed the S&P 500 during the five-year period. Only 14 beat S&P's 10-year average of 14.9 percent, and just eight of those outpaced the S&P over both the five- and 10-year periods.

This elimination process identifies not only the top funds, but also the top managers. In the above example, two of the top eight funds are managed by the same investment management group.

This process can be used to select all types of mutual funds—income funds, international funds, or any other investment category you choose. No matter what your investment objective, you generally will keep discovering the same management groups at the top.

Evaluating mutual funds based on the soundness of their management allows you to avoid a host of distractions that can confuse your decision. Ferret out the best money managers, and you will generally uncover the most consistent funds. Rather than chasing the hottest, cheapest or most-advertised fund, select the best management group and then run with the professionals.

Editor's note: This is a column highlighting stocks of local interest. The author, Noah Seldenberg, is the local representative for Edward D. Jones and Company, the nation's largest investment firm. For further information or additional questions, call 223-1908.

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE—

Terri Murphy

Understanding home taxes

I had the privilege of interviewing the accounting firm of T.W. Antos and Co. from Wheeling to get information regarding the home ownership facet of taxation. Ted Antos, CPA since 1966, had some interesting points he was able to clear up for me on several tax issues.

One of the more important and easy points to adapt yourself to is the issue of preparing for the tax reports. Receipts should be categorized not by month, but by file. For example, all home improvements should be kept in one envelope. Replacing your hot water heater, air conditioning, finishing a basement or roof replacement should all be assembled together. Unfortunately, many homeowners misfile, or forget the improvements they have made and don't use the opportunity to add these improvements to the cost of their home. This is the main reason why keeping up with a categorized "envelope" of information by year can help you remember at a later date rather than reconstructing from memory only.

Antos also clarified what selling costs can be added to the calculation of taxes on capital gains. These costs include survey fees, broker commissions, points to buyers, inspection costs, tax stamps, etc. Most closing/selling costs can adjust the tax calculation, especially paying for the points on a new mortgage. Real estate taxes have a spot in the tax return, as they are considered when figuring your tax return.

Another interesting point that was learned was the number of years you are expected to keep your records. The IRS says you will need receipts and records for a three-year period from the date of filing. An exception to the rule is "home" records, which should be kept as long as you own the home and three years thereafter, along with the records of the closing costs, plus the records of a new home purchase, or Form 2119 for deferment of gain.

Another important point that was cleared up was the information on the over age 55 exclusionary clause for capital gains. You will have only one time to use this exclusion. You must be at least 55 years of age at the time of the closing and as a couple, you use the exclusion in tandem.

It seems incredulous that so many of our population does not have a "wealth" plan to aid retirement living. Oftentimes a home that has been paid for yields too many expensive items for upkeep, like escalation of real estate taxes and normal maintenance. Saving even 10 cents on every dollar can compound over a number of years to provide financial comfort at a retirement age. You don't have to be wealthy for a wealth plan. A simple consistent system will do the job, quietly building financial assistance daily. This can contribute highly to housing needs for your retirement years.

Be prepared to understand how home ownership can help you calculate the correct amount of taxes you should be paying. Get the help of a great accountant that will help you organize your record filing and make things easier.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County receives grant from Marshall Field's

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County received a Chicago-area social action grant from Marshall Field's as part of its 1994 Community Giving Program. Grants totaling $107,500 were awarded to several area organizations. Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County will use the funds for its Pregnant/Single Parenting (P/SP) Program.

"We're thrilled that Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County has been selected to receive a grant from Marshall Field's."

The funds will make a substantial difference in allowing us to match greater numbers of teen moms with Big Sisters," said Dr. Joseph C. White, president of the Board of Directors of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County.

The P/SP Program of Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County provides professionally supervised Big Sisters to pregnant and parenting teens. Through personal support and friendship these Big Sisters help the teens confront the many challenges they face as students, parents and young adults striving for a positive future for themselves and their children.

"We are pleased to share our resources with these exemplary organizations whose programs are making a major difference in the communities Field's serves," said Daniel J. Skoda, president of Marshall Field's. "Field's views its grant making as an investment to help make its store communities better places to live and work for both its employees and customers."

Marshall Field's Community Giving Program demonstrates the retailer has a strong commitment to all the communities in which it operates stores. Each year its parent company, the Dayton Hudson Corp., contributes five percent of its federally taxable income to non-profit programs that meet social and cultural needs.

Brunswick celebrates 150th anniversary

The new year marks an important benchmark for Brunswick Corporation. The corporation will celebrate its 150th anniversary in 1995.

Headquartered in Lake Forest, Brunswick is believed to be one of the oldest continuously independent, publicly traded companies in the nation, and the oldest in the Chicago area. It was honored by the Illinois State Historical Society, which presented the Company with the Society's very first Sesquicentennial Business Award.

Brunswick is a multi-national, multi-billion dollar company and is the world's largest marine manufacturer and a leader in recreation and leisure products. The company is best known for its industry leadership with such key brand names as Mercury Marine (marine power), Bayliner and Sea Ray (pleasure boating), Starcraft, Spectrum, Fisher, Monark, Astro, Pro-Craft, Wahoo (fishing boats), Zebco (fishing equipment), Brunswick Bowling, Brunswick Billiards, Brunswick Golf and Brunswick Recreation Centers.

What many people don't know is that Brunswick Corporation was founded in 1845 by a Swiss immigrant, John Brunswick. The wood-working skills of John Brunswick initially created cabinets, tables, chairs, billiard tables and back bars, several of which are still in existence today. Among the Company's many accomplishments are: the manufacture of the first American-made billiard table; the introduction of the first non-wood bowling ball; a partnership with General Electric for the debut of the first all-electric phonograph; a successful music label company with legendary recording stars including Duke Ellington, Cab Calloway and Al Jolson; the manufacture of the first spincast fishing reels; and one of the first commercial installations of the automatic pinsetter.

If you think you're ready to have baby...Think Ahead

Think Ahead! That is the message being highlighted by the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation during January, Birth Defects Prevention Month.

"Just as you plan for other life events, it's important to think ahead and prepare for pregnancy. There are a few simple things that all women can do prior to pregnancy to help make sure her baby has a healthy start in life," says Barbara A. Michelin, RN, BA, program chairperson of the March of Dimes-Greater Illinois Chapter.

According to the March of Dimes, women who are preparing to have a baby should see a health care provider before becoming pregnant; eat a balanced diet; stop smoking, drinking alcohol and taking non-prescription drugs without a physician's okay; and consume at least 0.4 milligrams of the B vitamin folic acid every day to prevent neural tube defects.

The Think Ahead campaign was developed as a result of recommendations made by the nation's leading organizations concerned with maternal and infant health. In the report "Toward Improving the Outcome of Pregnancy (TIOP): the 90's and Beyond," 27 national organizations cited pre-pregnancy awareness as an important factor in improving the outcome of pregnancy.

Call the Greater Illinois Chapter of the March of Dimes at 435-4007 for more information about preparing for pregnancy.

Help for everyday stress getting out of hand

Everyone experiences stress at some point in their lives. For some of us, it has even become an every day occurrence. The dog gets off its leash and runs out of the yard just as you are leaving for work. Traffic is heavy and slow. You skip lunch because you are finishing a project for this afternoon's meeting. Your daughter forgot her basketball shoes for practice. Your son needs a ride to gymnastics. The in-laws are coming for dinner.

"It is important to control the stress in your life, not only because stress can lessen your enjoyment of life and effect your relationships, but also because stress can lower your resistance to disease," says Linda Hale, R.N., patient care director of Victory Memorial Hospital's Mental Health Department. "The body is a marvelous machine. It warns you when stress levels are getting out of hand."

How can you tell? Your pupils begin to dilate, your throat tightens (as do the muscles in your neck, upper back, shoulders and legs), and your breathing becomes quick and shallow. Some people find they become irritable or tend to over-react to minor incidents when the pressure of stress become too much. Others go on a spending spree, often increasing their stress by overspending. Overeating and over indulging in alcohol or drugs can also result. So can a loss of purpose, often indicated by burying yourself in television, reading or even sleeping. Of course, the reverse is also true, and some people develop insomnia or workaholic traits when over stressed.

"There are a number of methods people can use to manage their stress. Some simple lifestyle changes can help deal with the stress in your life. In the extreme, professional help by a physician or therapist may be required," says Hale.

The Mental Health Department at Victory Memorial Hospital provides a confidential crisis line to assist people when the stresses in their lives seem out of control. The crisis line is professionally staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week and can be reached by calling 360-4082.

If you are looking for ways to positively manage the stress in your life, here are some lifestyle changes which might help. Exercise is an important stress reducer. It produces anti-stress chemicals, or endorphins, in the body. These chemicals produce a feeling of well-being. Research has shown that regular exercise makes a person less irritable,

'The body is a marvelous machine. It warns you when stress levels are getting out of hand.'

patient care director

less emotional, less tense, less depressed and at the same time increases a person's energy level, self-esteem and inner control.

Healthy diet is also important in reducing stress. Caffeine, sugar and salt may stimulate the nervous system and as a result increase feelings of stress. So it is a good idea to limit your intake of them.

A good night's rest will aid your ability to cope with stress you face each day. So will finding ways to relax. You should take time each day to do something that you enjoy, just for you. It could be gardening, reading, dancing, even taking a warm bubble bath.

Victory Mental Health Department also provides a variety of community education classes throughout the year. Topics range from stress management to assertiveness to time management. In addition, professional mental health speakers are available to present programs for groups and organizations. For a copy of the Mental Health Speakers Bureau brochure listing topics available, call Victory's Community Relations Department at 360-4246.

Community's generosity makes 'Adopt-A-Client' successful

Two hundred eighty persons with developmental and/or emotional disabilities received holiday gifts due to the generosity of the community. Each individual from the Lake County Society for Human Development was presented with their own personalized gift at a gala event held at the Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth.

Truman Hudson, Zion township supervisor, was in attendance. The township supported the event by providing a delicious breakfast served to the participants by the staff at Midlane. Susan Thomas, president of the board of directors at Lake County Society for Human Development, assisted the staff in distributing gifts and enjoyed the holiday spirit.

The "Adopt-A-Client" program was a huge success. Profiles of each individual involved in the programs as the Society were received by many families, companies, schools, churches and individuals throughout the Lake County area. Gifts were purchased then brought to the agency or other drop-off points.

Lake County Society for Human Development, 3441 Sheridan Rd., Zion, is thankful to all those who participated in this annual gift giving program. Thank you to the Zion Faith Homes, Telephone Pioneers of America, Healy School-Chicago, Elmwood School, Midwestern Regional Medical Center-Zion, OMC-Waukegan, Abbott Laboratories-North Chicago and Scotsman, Bernbaum Import/Export Co.-Vernon Hills.

Beautiful cheer

Miss Wisconsin Laura Voss was just one of the lovely and talented group who visited the North Chicago Veterans Affairs Medical Center to spread cheer during the holiday season. ## How to speak with a child about death and dying

Death is a part of life and children's questions about death arise when mortality becomes a reality through the death of a loved one, a friend, or a pet. The child is hurt, confused, angry, and filled with questions about what it means to die. Experts agree that children's questions should be answered honestly and directly so the child may begin the process of grief and recovery. Differing ages, comprehension levels, and personalities of children should be taken into consideration when speaking with a child about death.

Q: At what age should I begin to talk to a child about death?

A. Teaching children about death begins at the time they ask the first question. Answers, depending on the age and comprehension levels of the child, are best given in an honest and non-evasive manner, according to experts. Evasive answers may only confuse and frighten children. For example, if a child is told that a grandparent is in external sleep, the child may equate sleep with death and fear bedtime on the grounds that he may never wake up again. When children are not given correct information, they may make up their own answers, which are usually very mixed up and more frightening than the truth.

Q: What are some of children's reactions to death?

A. Depending on their age and level of understanding, children may experience the same complex emotions that adults experience through the grief process. Some of the emotions that children and adults may feel include denial, anger, guilt, and sorrow. Each person may feel one or all of these complex emotions during the grieving process. Emotions may vary through the process and people move in and out of various stages through the grieving process.

Denial—Denial is a needed coping mechanism that is a normal response to news that is too painful to assimilate. Children, as well as adults, need denial as a protective mechanism.

Anger—Children may express anger at the circumstances, the person or pet who has died, and themselves. They might express that life isn't fair. Acknowledging a child's feelings is vitally important in the grieving process.

Guilt—"I should have taken better care of my fish" or "I shouldn't have let mom drive to the store that day" is a common reaction. An understanding explanation that no one, adult or child, has the power to control all that happens in someone else's life will help to alleviate the strong feelings of guilt.

Sorrow—Parents may want to remove and protect a child from sorrow and sadness that the child is experiencing, but experts agree that it is important that a child be allowed to mourn. A child's feelings are validated when he is able to find someone who shares the pain and empathizes with it.

Canceling Cable

Get rid of that junk you're showing on Channel 54 and turn Channel 29 back the way it was. Playboy wasn't all that hot, either, but at least on Channel 29, they showed some good movies and some informative shows. Get rid of Channel 54; we're canceling!

Well Done

We do a lot of good things at Big Hollow School, and I'd like to congratulate the seventh-grade basketball team for a job well done. They finished first for the first time in many years. Good work, guys. Keep it up!

Fees Too High

It seems the Round Lake Area Park District has too much tax money. Now they want to take over Fairfield Marsh. The developers don't want the marsh, Round Lake Heights doesn't want it, Lake County Forest Preserve doesn't want it. So, the park district wants to use everyone's tax money to take care of the developer's storm water. My kids can't use the park district programs because I can't afford the high fees. I wish the bird brains over there would use our tax money to lower the program fees, rather than provide nesting sites for all the redwing blackbirds.

Police Needed

Who put in the Lipservice column on Jan. 6 that police protection was unnecessary for the Dist. 116 strike? The schools belong to the taxpayers, and not the NEA. If the teachers would work hard for the $50,000/6-month a year jobs, we would not have to rely on police sirens to let us know that the kids are out of school.

No Raises

I'm a parent whose son attends school in the Round Lake School Dist. I'm calling in response to Business 101. I can see the writer supports Bill Schroeder's editorial titled 'Union Unmindful of Productivity Aim,' later on the writer goes on to say that neither the teacher or administration pay raises will be acceptable until classroom results are raised. The writer of that obviously doesn't know that the current Round Lake School Board gave the superintendent, Mary Davis, a $20,000 raise. She is far less qualified and less experienced than Dr. Sherman was before her. She does not have a Ph.D. or the 20 years experience in the district as he had. Yet, the school board is giving her $20,000 more than what he was making. This is totally outrageous, as well as other raises on the administration level. This is totally shortsighted and, frankly, Mrs. Davis did her best to provoke the strike when it happened by the way she treated many of the employees.

Clean House

This is to all the Round Lake residents. Please remember the strike when election time comes around next year. Get out and vote...it's time to clean house!

Do Something

I'm very tired of reading these ridiculous articles pertaining to the Gavin School District and school board. As a resident, I'm overjoyed the building referendum passed. It takes a lot of hard work with many people working together. And working together are the most important key words for success. I feel it's far time for two of the board members to stop taking all the credit. Grow up and really start helping the children and the district by working together for the future and not the past. Stop your complaining and do something instead of interviewing with the press. You're disgusted with the board members? Well, maybe the both of you should try voting yes or no with the others instead of abstaining. It seems the others are doing your jobs for you, and a very good job, and you're taking the credit. If you can't make decisions, you don't belong on the school board. Like you quoted in your article, you thought seriously about leaving last year. Maybe you should take your own advice and leave. Do something good for the children and the district for a change.

Beware

My daughter recently had some electrolysis work done. Things did not work out correctly. I urge people to check credentials first before they go to get professional electrolysis.

Home Improvement

In the Dec. 30 Lipservice, there was a column titled 'Improving America' that stated that the Mexicans could possibly change America for the better. That is a dandy joke. If they want to change things, why don't they do it in Mexico? Then they wouldn't have to come to this country.

No Separation

In response to 'Fanatic', you should read the book 'Thomas Jefferson: A Life' and you'll be enlightened because it clearly states that there is no separation between church, state or God. They're all entwined. Furthermore, you have to also understand that people like you, who criticize and call Christians fascists and so on, should be grateful to Christians in this country because they have so many charities with free volunteers to keep your tax dollars down. I think you need to go back to school and read the Constitution because he was clearly influenced by the Old and New Testament, according to John Adams and himself.

Can't Go It Alone

In response to 'Business 101', saying that teachers should get no raises until the averages in Lake County academics are raised. I have something to say to this: Let's test the parents first. When you send children to school knowing what a book is for, what pencils are for, well-fed, well-rested, who haven't spent their entire afternoon in front of the television while you selfishly worry about your own concerns and not your children's, then talk about the teachers. When we have decent parents who back up the teachers, and teach their children and help them learn at home and send them prepared to help them learn in school, then you can talk about teachers raising the numbers. Teachers can't do it alone, and if the quality of parents in Round Lake Beach, I wonder if anyone could ever do it.

Sky's the Limit

Wake up, property owners in Gavin School District! Your school board has given free reign, no holds barred, without any accountability, to Gavin School to raise your taxes. New taxes for roofs on two schools, new taxes for a 20-percent salary increase, all this in addition to the $9.3 million dollar referendum they succeeded in passing. A school board made up of spouses of teachers, teachers, wealthy parents of students, are not interested in holding down taxes. The sky's the limit. Remember these names and boot them out in the next election.

Where Is Grant?

In Wauconda, as one senior to another, wouldn't you like to have a Senior Center where we can all meet and play games, sip coffee, and perhaps have our parties or luncheons, whatever the case may be? What happened to the $45,000 grant that was received for this purpose? Does anybody know or care?

Think About Kids

In response to the article of 'Davis Doing OK', whoever thinks Mary Davis is doing a good job must be very near-sighted. When Round Lake was striking, why wasn't anybody thinking about the children and their needs? Everyone was thinking about the superintendent's and teachers' needs, but nobody thought about the children. The children are affected because they don't get a good vacation or any time off. They're the big losers out of this whole Round Lake strike. If Round Lake needs to cut costs out there, don't do it with our children's education.

Whittling Away

Being a resident of Fox Lake and listening to all the garbage that Dr. Dam and Karen Kabus and the rest of that crew are doing on the Waterway Commission is really disgusting. Now I see they have another $400,000 from the state of Illinois to begin work on Nippersink. Let's see how far that money goes before they whittle it away and have nothing to show for it, except a bunch of remarks that they've got people believing that they're doing something. I really see nothing for the amount of money they've spent so far. There's channels here that have trees in them. It's a mess. I used to fish on the lake and now it's almost impossible with the boating crew, which is really all they care about. It's a terrible situation which will never be corrected with the crew they've got in there and what they're trying to do is snowball people.

Uncalled For

I'm calling about the front page article about the mechanic telling the story of the driver in a fatal crash. I think Paul Reed should have his head examined. According to the last statement in the article, who cares if the tire is still on the car. Two people were killed in that accident, and I really think that was uncalled for and the paper shouldn't even have printed it. Those families are just heartsick over this, and you print something that stupid.

Concerned Paper?

Miscommunication

Very recently an article in Lipservice was critical of the Fox Lake Community Center. The criticism involved the use of a sign for the recent Boy Scouts' pancake breakfast. The sign was certainly available to advertise the breakfast, however a clear request was never received by the office. To clarify this statement, a hand-written note was left at the center, and I quote, "Someone wants to put something on the sign." No name, no telephone number. What would you do? The public should realize that the center is operated only by volunteer seniors. No one is paid. Therefore, there are no definite stated hours in which someone mans the office, except for each Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. An answering machine takes calls which are answered as soon as possible. If you wish any further discussion on this subject, please leave your name and telephone number on the answering machine, or call any Wednesday. The number is 587-3335.

Be Responsible

The person(s) that owns the smooth-coated collie-mix dog in the Mallard Ridge development area has not paid attention to my call from last week. Your dog is out again running loose. I don't know what more you people need to do, or have said to you, but wake up! Your dog is running loose! He is an un-neutered male and will probably end up being hit by a car because he'll eventually roam farther and farther. And he'll wind up impregnating someone else's irresponsible (in the way of an unspayed female), which will result in an unwanted litter of puppies. Take responsibility and house your dogs properly. Fence him in or bring him inside the home and walk him on a leash on a regular basis. Otherwise, you'll lose him forever.

Keep Values

I've spent many weeks reading through Lipservice, and have found time after time, that Christian values are constantly torn apart. Our forefathers established the rights and freedoms of Christian values, and since then, society has taken joy in turning it all around. Prayer has been taken out of schools and now the term Christmas is abolished in many schools. Pro-abortionists won't acknowledge the truth that a baby that is called a fetus is God's creation, not man's. People, you're not fighting us who believe the word of God is infallible, but the creator who gave it to us. You can all tear down the Christian values all you want, but it's not us you're going to answer to in eternity. At least think about that for a moment.

Free to Choose

I agree with the column titled 'My body first' in the Jan. 6 Lipservice. I feel it is a woman's choice (along with her partner's), not the male-majority governments, on whether or not she decides to terminate a pregnancy. Although I disagree with abortion being used as a method of birth control by some women and I, personally, would not make that choice for myself, I would stand up and fight for any woman's right to have that choice. What do the pro-life fanatics think they're proving by demonstrating and even killing abortion-performing doctors in cold blood? As long as you're not killing a fetus, I guess it's alright to murder.

What a sick message you're sending! I say we all band together and spend our time and energy in stopping the needless abuse, starvation, and gang-banging of children that are among us now so we can feel more comfortable with bringing more children into the world.

Home Run

I'm a sports fan who has enjoyed going to the occasional baseball, basketball, football, and hockey games. I agree with the column

'Boycott Sports' which said that professional sports is made up of greedy owners and players. There are a few players and owners. I'm sure, that are in the business because they love the game, but overall these professional sports strikes are very disillusioning to the fans. How can most of us blue collar fans relate to the million-dollar demands of people that, after all, merely play a GAME? What if all of these millions of dollars that are being fought over was donated toward building housing for the homeless, feeding hungry children, building recreational centers to keep kids off the streets, or medical research to discover cures for AIDS, diabetes, birth defects, multiple sclerosis, etc.? Certainly more lives would be changed by doing this rather than sitting in front of the TV or in the ballpark watching a player (who probably skimmed through high school and college because he was a hot athletic prospect) hit a ball. Don't get me wrong, I miss the games, too. But now that I've realized that 'America's pastime' is holding out for more money, I've switched to watching college and minor league games, which I have discovered are more exciting. I urge everyone to send a loud and clear message to both owners and players when (or if) they resolve these strikes by staying at home and playing catch with your kids in the front yard instead. After all, where would professional sports be without the fans? I would find it interesting to know if other fans feel the same as I do!

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: I have been out of the work place for just about ten years while raising my family. I am basically without skills except for light typing. What do you suggest a person do when re-entering the work place? T.K.

A: Dear T.K. First thing to do is to decide what kind of work you would like to do. For instance, if you would like a job in the retail industry, the doors are always open for anyone with a good work attitude, coupled with good people and customer service ability. I would like to further suggest that if it is a more corporate environment that you wish to pursue, check out your local community college which offers a variety of courses toward a business certificate. Usually you will find these courses will involve an introduction to computers, reception skills, typing and more. There are excellent positions available for data entry, customer service and reception. The courses are offered at very convenient times and some community colleges even offer child care while attending classes. Good luck to you.

Q: I would like to know if it makes a difference if I send a thank you note after an interview to the person who interviewed me? A.R.

A: Dear A.R. It certainly looks good in the employer's eye when an applicant takes the initiative to write them a short personal note thanking them for the interview. It further suggests to the employer that you are interested in the position. Send the note out almost immediately...don't wait. However, before it leaves your hands, proofread your note for possible spelling errors, watch your penmanship making sure it is quite legible and most important, be sure that you have the correct spelling of the person's name. It could be irritating for Mr. Jensen to receive a letter addressed to Mr. Johnson. Go ahead and send it! If nothing else, it will insure that you will be on the employer's mind more than once.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

In fact, we're bringing them much closer together. In the Super Kmart Center going up in Round Lake, NBD is opening a new branch. And though a bank in a grocery store or mall is nothing new, in this relationship everything is new.

Employees at these banks will be active participants in the retail program. This means they won't be shut up in a kiosk, stuck behind windows or big desks all the time. They will be part of the retail experience, taking NBD's products and services to the shoppers.

Sounds exciting, doesn't it? And even better, your retailing experience makes you a perfect candidate to join this revolutionary approach to banking. Consider the following:

PERSONAL BANKERS
FULL TIME OPPORTUNITIES

Your responsibilities will be a dynamic mix of traditional banking duties and aggressive marketing, servicing customers and seeking to capitalize on cross sales opportunities. You must be a self-starter with a sharp eye for success and retail sales/customer service experience. CRT experience is preferred.

We offer a competitive salary and benefits package. New realities in retailing demand new ways of banking. Help us define them. Please call to schedule an interview appointment.

"Your Link to the Chain"

A BOAT SLIP ON THE CHAIN...

Is only one feature of this 4,000 Sq. ft. 4 bedroom, 2 story on 1 acre in the newest Lakefront development in Fox Lake. The home is set on a wooded knoll, just steps from the lake and shaded by huge oak trees. 2 story foyer has oak floor and stair railing. ## PUURI

The first floor and finished basement combine to offer 3372 square feet of living space in the contemporary style Puuri. Suited for a sloping lot, the Puuri offers a family plenty of room to grow.

The brick and wood trim adds to the curb appeal of this attractive home. The two car garage extends forward from the main structure, creating a recessed entry. Directly to the left of the entry is a stairway to the basement area. A good-sized home office, perfect for running a small business or for figuring out household accounts, is adjacent to the stairs. The office has closet space and plenty of room for filing cabinets, computer and other necessary equipment. If desired, this room could be turned into an extra bedroom. Across the hallway is the large master suite. The amenities here include a roomy walk-in closet, private bathroom with spa and linen storage, and a small raised back deck. Separated from the master suite by a full bathroom, is the second bedroom. A large closet and windows on two sides enhance this spacious room.

The combined living room-dining room area, where family and friends will want to gather, is warmed by a built-in pellet stove. In warmer weather, take the fun outside. The living room opens to a roomy screened deck, and when you want to get the barbecue out, a raised deck can be accessed from the dining room. The walk-through kitchen will make any cook happy. Here meals can be prepared and served without the cook missing out on any of the goings-on. All the built-in appliances and lots of pantry space allows meals to be served formally in the dining room or hot snacks taken to the backyard or down to the basement for the kids playing ping-pong.

A utility room and a half-bath have been placed near the garage. Groceries can be conveniently brought directly into the kitchen without worrying about the weather. If you decide to have a shop in the garage, any clean-up can be done before entering the main part of the house.

For a study kit of the PUURI (402-29), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

McCormack's prints gives fans chance to show loyalty

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

When Jim McCormack watches a professional football game, he has the usual ups and downs of all fans.

He celebrated when the Bears beat the Vikings 35-18. He probably reflected on a successful season during Saturday's 44-15 loss to San Francisco. That gave the Bears 10-8 record.

But for the Gurnee resident, the games are also big business. McCormack, through his firm The Gallery of Sports Art in Greendale, Wis., produced the 75th Anniversary print for the Chicago Bears and has done Green Bay Packers and Cleveland Browns prints as well.

"It was hot through Christmas and the enthusiasm for the team helps," McCormack said of the Bears print.

The print includes photos and authenticated signatures of Hall-of-Famers Walter Payton, Dick Butkus and many other famous Bears such as Doug Buffone and Gale Sayers and ex-Coach Mike Ditka.

"We do some things different with actual photos of players signing the prints," he said.

The firm also tries to obtain team backing of its concepts. It met with Bears President Michael McCaskey several times deciding which players to include and how the design should look.

"Players ask if they can just sign the prints, but we say we have to stand there and watch them," McCormack said.

Price of the prints range from $225 for an unframed regular print to $750 for an unframed signature artist proof. Framing as well as the letter of authenticity and identification legend are extra, $69.95 each.

Many miles were put on the family van as the designs were trucked to Arizona and other locales to obtain signatures. "Bulldog" Turner signed in Texas and George McAfee in Durham, North Carolina.

Gantar, Greene gain
soccer accolades

Joel Greene, a Libertyville High School graduate, was named outstanding defensive player for the most successful men's soccer team in Illinois Wesleyan University history.

Illinois Wesleyan was 9-8 overall, 2-3 in league matches.

Greene was an all College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin league player as a senior.

"Joel has not only been an outstanding player but a great leader. During most of our games, he was typically the player who stood out due to his ability to recover and rescue us from dangerous opponent scoring situations," Illinois Wesleyan Coach Tony Bankston said.

Greene, a former Vernon Hills resident living in North Carolina, also had 2 assists. He also served as captain.

The business administration major finished with a career total of 6 goals and 5 assists.

Also contributing was Marc Gantar. Gantar had 2 goals and 3 assists. The freshman is an Antioch High grad. He is the son of Mike and Alice Gantar.

Both Greene and Gantar won letters from the Bloomington school.

'Power Ranger' image distorts truth behind karate

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Martial artists will be the first to point out that karate is not an aggressive, "blood and guts" technique used as a human weapon to dismember others as it is commonly portrayed through karate movies and television programs such as "Power Rangers."

Tae kwon do specialists from "Sidekicks Martial Arts" in Lindenhurst strongly object to the violent distortion of karate displayed by Hollywood movie directors. Rather, tae kwon do is an ancient art form that stresses integrity, courtesy, self control, perseverance and indomitable spirit.

"Children and adults are taught to use kicking and punching techniques only in self defense, with the object being: disable and escape," said Valerie Stevens, a 33-year-old mother of two who signed up for tae kwon do classes after her 6-year-old son expressed an interest in the martial arts.

"The idea that karate teaches kids to indiscriminately attack one another is absurd," Stevens added.

Sidekicks martial arts instructor Paul Haroian, who is ranked No. 1 in the country for heavy weight black belts over the age of 43, teaches approximately 75 students from as young as 4 to as old as 71 that tae kwon do is more than self defense.

"Martial Arts is more of a way of life. It also includes attitude and the way you carry yourself," Haroian said. For young people who may not be star athletes on the Little League diamond, martial arts offers an attractive alternative. It also spills over into a young person's personal life, from striving to do well in school to respecting their parents.

"To achieve you have to believe, and to believe you have to achieve," said Haroian, who is quick to throw in his martial arts wisdom.

Sidekicks students have also raised funds to benefit Lake County Children's Advocacy Center and shelters for battered women.

"Martial arts is also about helping one another," Haroian said. "Kids learn to protect the weaker kids."

Tae kwon do serves many other purposes as well.

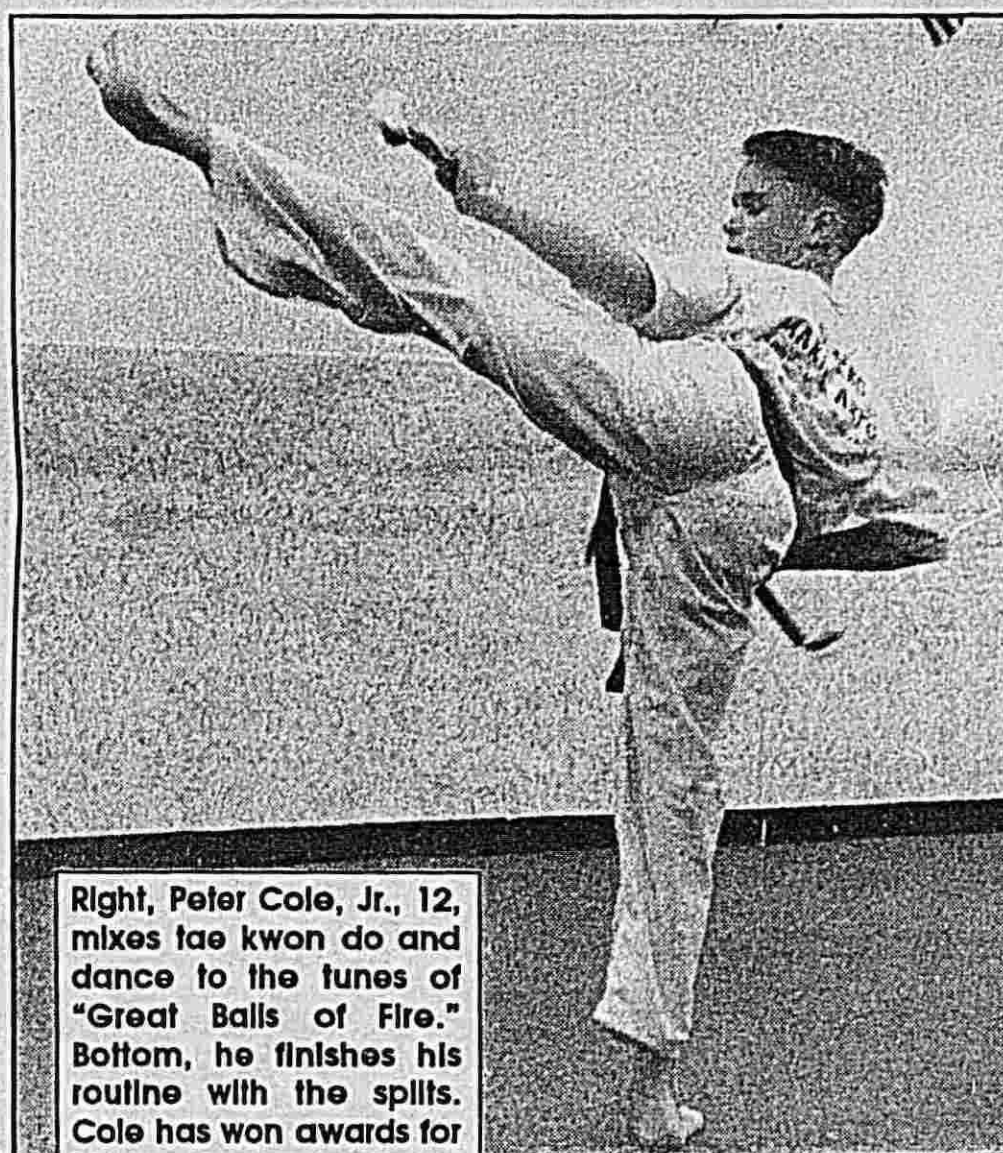

George Kolian, a 71-year-old stroke victim, uses tae kwon do as a form of muscular therapy.

"It's actually therapy for me. You learn to use more of your muscles," said Kolian, whose stroke three years ago left him paralyzed on the left side of his body. He has gradually progressed from a wheelchair to using a cane to now throwing waste-high kicks.

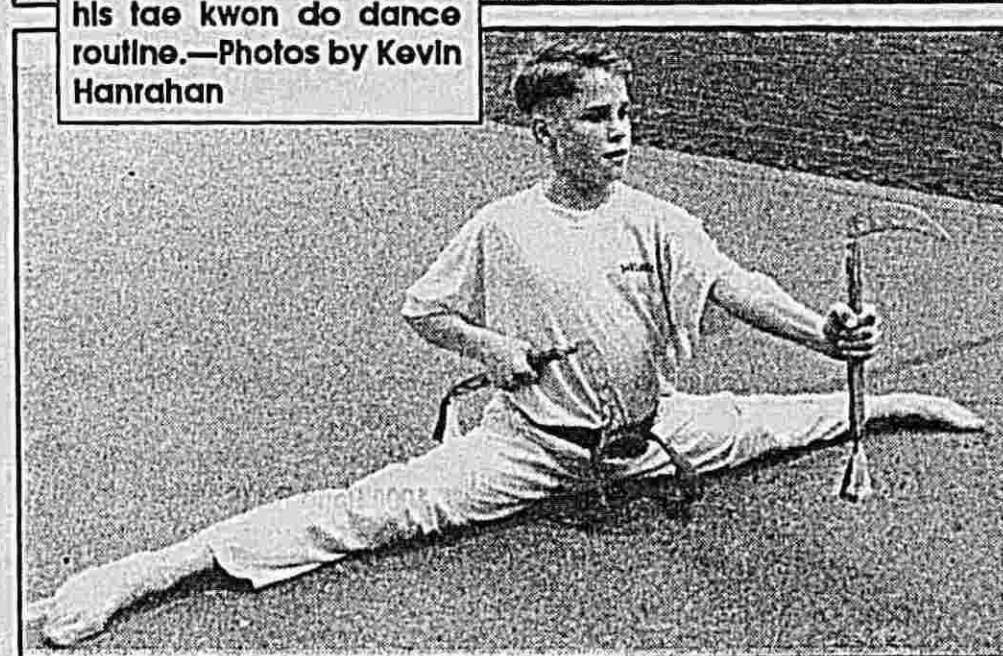

"I think it's great for young people and guys my age. It has really helped my ego," Kolian said. "You keep on striving to do better. I would highly recommend it to people who have suffered from strokes."

Two single mothers Debbie and Kari, who asked not to reveal their last names, view tae kwon do as a perfect way to gain a

Last-second shot fails CLC, Skyway league tests ahead

Having a chance to win at the end is what all basketball teams hope for.

The College of Lake County Lancers gave a large gathering an entertaining, if not successful end to a 75-73 loss to Triton College.

The Lancers had the ball out-of-bounds with 2.0 seconds to go. Justin Hanlin threw the ball in to Ronzeyl Newsome for a lay-in, only to see the ball bounce off the backboard no good.

"We had four options and he went to the guy who looked like he was the most open," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said.

The first option was a wide-open three to win the game, but with that not there, the Lancers opted for two.

It appeared Triton had the game wrapped up when Mike Rudd (15 points and team leader) was whistled for a flagrant foul with 3.1 seconds left. But the free throws were missed and a traveling call made on the in-bounds play.

The game was a heartbreaker for the 7-9 Lancers, who fought back from an 8-point second half deficit. Hanlin, a Warren Township High grad, had 11. Kurt Filiatreault had 13, Kelan Williams had 12 and Manuel Stutts 11.

CLC could not stop 6-foot, 5-inch Shawn Baker and Dante Maddox of Triton, who had 19 and 18 points.

CLC trailed 48-40 with 12:28 left but pulled to within two when Kelan Williams made a free throw two and one-half minutes later.

Triton gained leads of as many as 5 points in the next few minutes.

Rudd, of Libertyville, made a basket which gave the Lancers a 62-61 lead at the 4:19 mark.

Triton went on an 11-3 run for a 7-point lead with less than a minute left.

CLC begins Skyway Conference play at Elgin Jan. 12 before hosting Waubesa at 7 p.m. Jan. 17 and traveling to Morton Jan. 19.

College of Lake County women's basketball start '95 with win

A stiffening of defense and an inspirational element or two always helps in basketball.

Just ask the College of Lake County's women's basketball team. The Lancers notched their long-awaited second win of the season with a 74-47 verdict over Triton. The win started the '95 portion of the season off on a bright note after a 1-10 start.

"We were fresh after having 10 days off in between practices and we came back with a positive attitude," Coach Don Zeman said. "We went with a full-court press to start the game, took it off, then went back to it in the second half."

Lisa Sinnokrak led the CLC attack by shooting 9-of-15 from the field for 19 points.

"She is playing a lot more comfortable now. When she joined us in November, she had not played since a knee injury seven months earlier. She has a better feel for the game and is shooting at the same level she did for Warren," Zeman said.

Sinnokrak was helped by a strong compliment of efforts despite the Lancers thin roster. Nicole Pollard had 18 points. Debbie Pope scored 17 points as she played in her second-to-last game and Kim Rowe had 10 points.

Pope's last game was the Skyway Conference opener at Elgin Jan. 12. "We wanted to give her a two-game winning streak. She has meant a lot to this team," Zeman said. The Lake Zurich grad played a complete game with 10 rebounds, 5 steals and 7 assists to go along with her points.

CLC (2-10) led by 11 at half-time and won the second half 39-23. "The game reinforces the fresh start for 1995. We still hope to add a player or two," Zeman said.

CLC had lost Amy Scharlu to a knee injury and Casey Bass is not available for the second semester. The Lancers host Waubesa in Skyway action at 5:15 p.m. Jan. 17 before traveling to Morton Jan. 19.

Wilmot all open wheel

MICHAEL H. BABICZ

Correspondent

Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway will have a new look on the track in 1995.

The Saturday night programs at "Wisconsin's Clay Center of Speed" will feature the only multi-division all open wheel program in Wisconsin.

Coming to the one-third mile clay oval for the first time will be the IMCA modifieds. The IMCA Modifieds are the fastest growing, most economical open wheel division in the U.S. and the Wilmot Speedway will be the first IMCA-sanctioned facility in the Chicago-Milwaukee area.

The IMCA Modifieds will join the weekly sprint car, Modified Racing Assn. modified, Wisconsin Mini-Sprint Assn. mini-sprint and mini-modified divisions.

Promoter Ray Toft, in announcing the move at a December meeting of over 70 competitors, "The move to IMCA will allow our drivers more versatility. When we have an off night, our cars will be able to compete at other tracks without making any changes. They will also be eligible for the IMCA national point fund, the National Driver Point fund, sponsored in part by North American Racing Insurance and the Wilmot Speedway point fund."

Additionally, the modifieds will begin the first year of a two-year plan that will ultimately result in the current MRA Modifieds no longer racing at the track. During 1995, Wilmot Speedway plans to have 20 dates for the MRA Modifieds and 10 for their final year at the track, 1996.

"Currently, the modifieds which complete at Wilmot have only one other track they can go to—Plymouth. To race at Plymouth, they must make certain changes and put on a wing," Toft continued. "We've been considering this move for at least five years. There has been a lot of interest in IMCA Modifieds from current and former competitors at Wilmot, as well as others who are excited about the move."

In another move designed to bring more excitement to 1995 season, the sprint cars will time trial in April and May. "We feel the use of time trials will have very positive results, and the idea has been accepted very enthusiastically by our spring drivers," Toft continued. "The first weekend in June, we will meet with the sprint car drivers and discuss the continued use of time trials for the remainder of the year."

The Club/All Star Circuit of Champions Sprints will make two stops at the Wilmot Speedway in 1995 with tentative dates scheduled for June 9 and Sept. 8. Negotiations are also underway to bring the North American Pro-Sportsman Series to Wilmot.

Starting times will be 7 p.m. for the first race, with sprint time trials at 6 p.m. Anyone interested in rules or schedules should contact Toft Auto Racing, P.O. Box 786, Antioch, IL 60002, or phone (414)862-2458.

The 1995 season opener will be Saturday, April 15.

Potter to defend title

MICHAEL H. BABICZ

Correspondent

The countdown to the traditional beginning of the area motorsports season is drawing nearer. Two-time defending "Best of Show" champion Landry Potter of Genoa City heads the growing list of entries.

Just about two months remain until the 18th annual Let's Go Racing Motorsports Show resented by Babicz Auto Racing Services. The indoor show, scheduled Wednesday through Sunday, March 22-26, will be at the Lakehurst Mall, Rtes. 43 (Waukegan Rd.) and 120 (Belvidere Rd.) in Waukegan. There is no fee for show participants or spectators.

As of the first of the year, over 40 entries from more than 15 types of motorsports are signed up to be on hand.

Potter, who has won the Larry's Mobil Services Best Appearing Overall Award the past two years, in 1993 and 1994, will have a new team behind him this year. Potter will be driving a 1995 Ford Thunderbird late model for the Randy Coats of Racine Citgo-sponsored team.

"We're looking forward to being at the show again," said Potter, who competes regularly at Lake Geneva Raceway.

Dave Holden of Zion plans to have his new IMCA modified, which he is to compete with regularly at Wilmot Speedway.

Steve Hazelrigg of McHenry is slated to show his 1993 Dodge Dakota four-wheel drive show truck.

John Schultz of Park City is putting together a new off-road truck to campaign on the Midwest SODA circuit.

A group of Outlaw Rascals, including Larry Roy of Zion, Mark Higby of Island Lake, Jack Schaal of Island Lake, Jim Rieger of Round Lake and Jim Neeve of Beach Park plans to have a display of their new group of open wheel machines.

A two-car sprint team of Kurt Davis of West Allis and Ken Nickels of Greenfield looks to be ready.

On Saturday, the traditional Oakarro District of Waukegan annual pinewood derby is slated.

Show sponsors include J&L Oil, Inc., Toft Auto Racing's Wilmot Speedway, Kevin Dawson's Lake Geneva Raceway, Broadway Bob's Great Lakes Dragaway and Larry's Mobil Service of Waukegan.

Due to mall limitations, the show is limited to 60 entries. To enter, persons should contact Mike Babicz at 689-4531, or write 1020 Lakehurst Dr., Apt. 211, Waukegan, IL 60085. All entries must come in on Tuesday, March 21, between 9 and 10 p.m. A meeting will be held in the mall community room at 8 p.m.

Waukegan to host sectional

The assignments are official for the Waukegan boys basketball sectional.

All area Class AA teams, with the exception of Johnsbury, will be aiming to play at Waukegan March 10. Regional winners clash in the sectional semis March 7 and 8.

Teams assigned to Waukegan are: Antioch, Carmel, Deerfield, Grant, Grayslake, Highland Park, Libertyville, Lake Zurich, Mundelein, North Chicago, Round Lake, Stevenson, Waukegan, Warren and Zion-Benton.

Carmel hoops fortunes on the rise with wins

Carmel High School girls basketball Coach Larry Whittier has a suggestion for public school students off on Martin Luther King Day, Jan. 16.

Why not take in a girls basketball game featuring an up-and-coming basketball team looking for mid-season momentum?

The game in question takes place at 12:30 p.m. Jan. 16 when Carmel hosts Highland Park.

Carmel increased its record to 9-7 overall with a 67-30 thrashing of Mt. Assisi Saturday at home.

"Our defense was the difference. We had a goal of holding them to 32 or less points," Coach Larry Whittier said.

Carmel did just that. After a 17-point first quarter by the visitors, Carmel held them to 6, 2 and 5 points while scoring 20, 12 and 23 points in erasing a 5-point deficit.

Erin Potempa scored 18 points and Colleen Krombach had 17 for CHS.

"Colleen started to get the ball on the inside and defense started to collapse on her or Tina Thul, who also did a good job on rebounds," Whittier said.

Then Carmel would kick the ball out to Potempa, who could drop a trey or drive to the basket and draw a foul.

"Jamie McGill also did a nice job against their press," Whittier said.

Carmel is winners of 6 of its last 7 games heading into this week's assignments with Loyola and St. Scholastica.

The shooting went south for Carmel against Regina Dominican. Carmel (3-5 GCAC) stayed close for one period, down 11-10, but Regina opened up a 15-8 domination of the second quarter and a 19-11 third stanza edge.

"We only made 17-of-50 field goals and that will not beat anybody," Whittier said.

He knows shooting is the top item to work on for Carmel and if the Corsairs did that this week, then a double-digit wins within its grasp.

Karate

From page C—healthy workout and to learn self defense at the same time. Between darkened grocery store parking lots or taking out the garbage late at night, single moms can find themselves in many vulnerable situations.

"I am much more aware of my surroundings now," said Debbie. "You feel vulnerable, but taekwon do keeps you from feeling vulnerable."

Kari said the workout is a way to relieve stress and it teaches her as well as her young children how to escape from potentially violent situations.

"You only use it when you need to use it. You want to be able to break and run. The second you get a chance you run."

Sidekicks is ideal for both single parents as it offers babysitting as well.

Haroian introduced babysitting after he learned of the many single mothers who wanted to take taekwon do but could not find a babysitter for their very young children.

"It works out great," Debbie said of the babysitting.

As for Stevens, she hopes to dispel the Hollywood image of karate, and she believes learning taekwon do can be an ideal family activity as well.

"Karate is for everyone. You don't have to be the fastest or the strongest, you compete against no one but yourself," Stevens said.

"Let's face it if you have to work out, you might as well learn how to defend yourself in the process."

Haag gains fourth place

Chris Haag garnered fourth place as the College of Lake County's wrestling team opened its 1995 season at the Harper Invite.

Haag, an Antioch grad, was 2-2 at heavyweight. He lost to Marimack 6-4, downed Triton in a pin in 4:49 and Harper in a close 8-6 decision.

He lost the third-place battle to Muskegon.

"Chris looked like a champ one meet but a chump the next," CLC Coach Stan Pasiewicz said. "He should have had finished third."

Frosh Mark Schweiss, a Grant graduate, looked promising in a 3-0 loss to Harper and a 4-3 loss to Marimack. "He was in both matches," Pasiewicz said.

at 150 and sophomore Justin Zdeb of Round Lake competed.

"Zdeb has more talent than anyone on the team but he has to learn to finish and wrestle for six minutes," Pasiewicz said.

CLC is at the Maranatha Bible College meet Jan. 14 in Watertown, Wis.

"Going into this tournament, I thought all our guys could compete in. We should be real competitive at the Watertown meet," Pasiewicz said.

CLC's all-road schedule includes: Jan. 21 at Harper duels; Jan. 25 at Waubensee; Jan. 28 at Triton; Feb. 3 at Lincoln; Feb. 4 at Muskegon, MI. and the Region IV tourney at Harper Feb. 11.

"By regional, we should contend," Pasiewicz said.

Prints

Jim McMahon signed during the Arizona Cardinals training camp. "I remember Cardinals head coach Buddy Ryan walking by in his p.j.'s," McCormack said.

Following the Packers' 16-12 win over Detroit in the first play-off round, it was off to Cleveland to finalize work on the print recognizing the anniversary of the '64 Browns title win over the Baltimore Colts.

McCormack became a partner in the three-year-old business when he met Pete Mozina, formerly of Gurnee. Tim Spansky of Dousman, Wis. is the artist.

The prints his firm sells represent quality. "There are a lot of people in this business out to make a quick buck but the quality may not be the best," he said.

The firm describes its work as limited edition fine arts as opposed to the common poster.

He has seen the prints displayed in all rooms of homes, including the living room.
